THROUGH A WINDOW

WE SEE

OUR YEAR AT WEST VIRGINIA

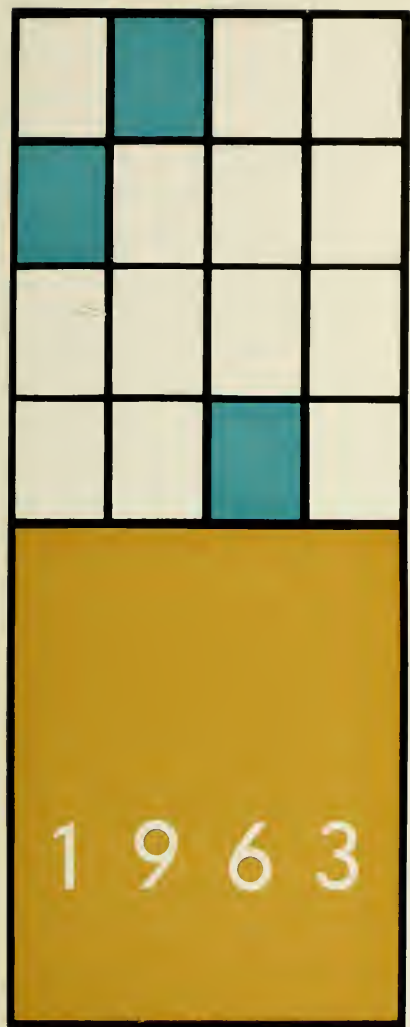

UNIVERSITY

The campus of West Virginia University is a window facing a universe of knowledge and experience. By its shining panes pass all varieties of people, information, and ideas from which we students select our friends, our future occupations, and our beliefs and standards. Through the window of college life we catch an insight into the numerous realms of wisdom and achievement and a glimpse of truth which contains a shimmering reflection of ourselves. As scholars we have seen those who work hard succeed and those who lack perseverance and vision fail miserably; we have been exposed to disappointment and reward, joy and sorrow, hope and despair. In short, samples of life's most valuable lessons have paraded before us that we might select the building blocks for our future.

Soon the glass will be broken, and we will step into a vast new world of conflict and challenge, relying on our four years of learning and experience for the fashioning of a prosperous, satisfying life. Today and in the years to come, may the 1963 MONTICOLA serve as a window through which we may once again see and recapture our objective views of problems, our youthful ideals, our high aspirations. In its pages, the friendships, the fraternities and clubs, and "good times" will ever remain alive to awaken the true values which we discovered and molded during our years on the campus of West Virginia University.

ADMINISTRATION

The administration of any great university must be comprised of leaders who possess intelligence, integrity, and experience. The body of men and women who compose the Administration of West Virginia University possesses these attributes. They are highly skilled in the organization and continuous functioning of our University in the various phases of its operation.

The Administration of W.V.U. is something different to each student. To some, the members of the administrative body are only names, someone about whom they have heard but do not know. To others, these men and women are friends, individuals whom they know and who know them. Yet, few students fully realize what the Administration does, how vital a part of our University it is. It is a unifying body, the core of W.V.U. that keeps our University running smoothly.

Our Administration is composed of many individuals who deal with various aspects of the University, yet it is one body; it is taken for granted by the majority of the student body, yet each day our lives are touched by it; it is concerned with the present, yet it is the body that envisions the future of the University, and that shapes this distant future into a near tomorrow.

The aims of our Administration are many: to educate the thousands of students by the instruction of the hundreds; to develop well-rounded individuals and good citizens by education, leadership, athletics and social life; to stretch and mold the dollars that are few into the concrete and steel structures that will house the many; to develop men and women who will contribute something to the good of the world and who will lead and inspire those who will follow them; to make W.V.U. an outstanding University, a University renowned nationwide, a University of which every student and alumnus can truly be proud.

The Monticola, 1963
West Virginia University
Morgantown, West Virginia

Dear Miss Ballengee:

Recognizing the great growth and progress achieved by West Virginia University, it is with extreme pride and pleasure that I send greetings and best wishes to the student body, the faculty and the administration of this fine educational institution.

I also congratulate the Monticola for the outstanding job it is doing in recording the happenings of campus life at WVU. This yearbook is always one of the most attractive and most interesting of the many produced by universities and colleges of the nation. Your entire staff is to be commended.

In these swiftly-changing times, in an era that undoubtedly will see man reach the moon, it is comforting and reassuring to me to know that West Virginia University is making truly valuable strides forward in its over-all program. We have no greater responsibility than that of seeing that our young men and women are provided with the opportunity for maximum development of their abilities.

As a graduate, certainly I am proud of West Virginia University. I am confident that it will continue to move ahead.

Sincerely,

BOARD OF GOVERNORS

The direction of the educational, administrative, business, and financial affairs of West Virginia University is vested in the Board of Governors. A bipartisan group whose members are appointed by the Governor, the Board is composed of nine men from various parts of the state. The terms of service are staggered, thus the Board at all times has experienced members serving. The members of the Board of Governors are, traditionally, state leaders who devote much time and energy in working for the betterment of our University. Through their work with W.V.U., they wield much influence in the guiding of the educational progress of the entire state. The men of the Board come from various occupational fields and the diversity of their abilities has been instrumental in West Virginia University's becoming a leading state university.

PRESIDENT OF W. V. U.

West Virginia University

MORGANTOWN

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT
For the 1963 Monticola

To West Virginia University Students:

The publication of this Monticola comes at a time when you are either graduating and the other classes are a while away from graduation. It is a time of confusion and excitement, both for the graduates, who are about to leave the University to take up occupations elsewhere, as well as for the undergraduates, who are beginning new chapters in their college life. All of you will read and re-read this annual, but finally the book will be put aside with the other personal documents of University life. Years hence, when the book is uncovered somewhere in a dusty attic, the discovery will awaken sensitivities long dormant, and you will remember yourself as you were so many years ago. It is for the moment of reminiscence that this letter is written.

What then will be your abiding impression of the University? Will your education have survived the vagaries of time? Will the University have been a place that provided you with many of the intellectual and moral tools which make you a truly free individual, devoted to self-improvement as well as the progress of society? Will it be the place where you will want to send your children? Will it be only a haze in the past that leaves you with nothing more than an occasional anecdote to tell about your growing up?

Hopefully, West Virginia University will be as visible to you then as it was when you were a student. Hopefully too, it will have stood the test of time as a truly outstanding institution of higher education, one which deserves your increasing support, just as its values should have guided you to a more noble quest: the higher aspirations of mankind. If this does not prove to be true, then in the distant future, then you and I will know that we have failed as a University.

EVENTS

A cheering crowd at the Homecoming game, Centennial enthusiasm spurring the events of Greater West Virginia Weekend, the panic of Final Week, thundering applause as the final curtain of "Little Mary Sunshine" comes down, the thought-provoking programs of Life Week—all these provide a bird's-eye view into the heart and spirit of West Virginia University. Between the confusion and uncertainty of Freshman Week and the pride of Commencement lie innumerable events designed to afford enjoyment, opportunities, intellectual stimulation, and creative pleasure for the entire student body. Educational opportunities meet the student everywhere, not only in the classroom, but in the cultural programs, committee work, and the development of leadership abilities through practical experience.

The various events on campus offer an unlimited variety of activities designed to appeal in some way to every student. For music and drama students, music-school productions and the University Theater provide a "proving ground" for hard-earned skills and hopeful aspirations. Student performances were supplemented this year by such noted groups as the American Arts Trio and the Four Saints. For campus "big wheels," Leadership Conference offers opportunities to discuss and solve campus problems. And on the committees for every big week-end event, there are places for prospective artists, writers, and executive leaders—in fact, there is work for anyone who is willing to give fully of his time and abilities.

All of the W.V.U. campus events center around participation and enjoyment. The ability to give of one's self and the value of friendly cooperation are both important factors in the preparation for every event and in the shaping of well-rounded graduates. And the pleasure and sincere fun to be found in campus events, whether gained through appreciation or participation, play a most vital role in our campus life.

FRESHMEN WEEK

How did you ever guess we're freshmen?

The weather is not the only thing that changes in September. The faces on the campus of West Virginia University also change. September brings to the University a new group of freshmen, filled with anticipation and with misgivings . . . class of '66. To help these new scholars become oriented to their home away from home . . . Freshmen Week . . . with its convocations, meetings, and, of course, social events. Where does it all begin? . . . the parking lot . . . "My luggage is missing" . . . "I'll write" . . . "Do I have to wear a beanie?" People to meet, the President of the University, the Dean of Women . . . roommates . . . "But this closet is so small!" . . . And this special week, set aside for this very purpose.

Don't they make these texts in paperbacks?

RUSH

First step in rush—the Roundtable

For those who are seeking brotherhood or sisterhood through fraternity or sorority life, rush is the first step. The uncertainties, anxieties, and joys which are compressed into the three short weeks of rush are countless. For almost everyone involved there is the enjoyment of laughter with others . . . meeting fellow students . . . parties without end . . . skits . . . "Did she cry?" . . . pledging . . . a general feeling of being drawn closer to University life. Each Greek puts his best foot forward during rush to show why his house is the best house, allowing the rushee to choose that place where he will find his brothers or sisters to be.

LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE

Is a leadership conference a conference for leaders? Perhaps, but more important, it is time set aside for the building of leaders. LEADERSHIP AND SERVICE

At West Virginia University, as on every college campus, are those students who are recognized as contributing much time and effort to serving their school. These campus leaders have attained the ultimate in human endeavor and achievement in various fields.

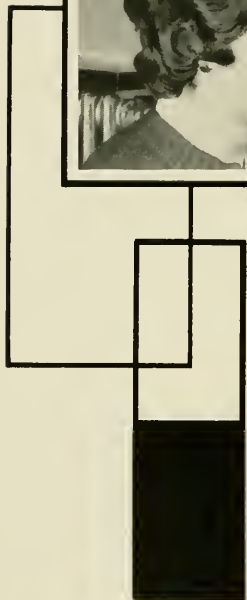

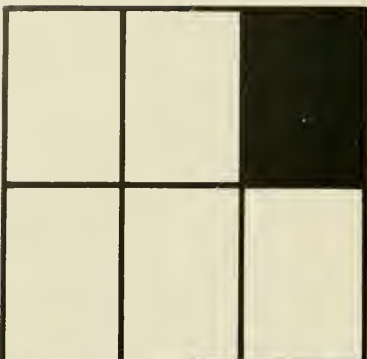

Leadership and service are important parts of any university for they contribute both to the development of the individual and to the betterment of the entire university. Through leadership positions students gain confidence and poise. The campus leader must learn to budget his time and energy, and to divide both among the social, the academic, and the extracurricular to attain a good balance in his student life. He is challenged by other leaders, both in elections and intellectually, and he benefits from this competition. Cooperation, fellowship, and friendship are developed among those who serve in a leadership capacity.

Besides developing the individual, leadership and service benefit the University itself. Campus Honoraries have projects that aid the total academic community or a part of it. Student Government presents and establishes various programs that are meaningful to the entire University. Associated Women Students institute standards of conduct for women that concern the school as a whole. The University publications further the name of West Virginia University statewide and nationwide and thus definitely affect and benefit the entire campus.

Student leaders are set apart from the followers and are responsible for guiding these students at present, for setting an example, and for directing and developing the leaders of ensuing years. They exercise much influence in the happenings of the University and thus gain much respect from the members of the entire student body.

This section of the 1963 MONTICOLA, therefore, is set aside to recognize and honor those who, as student leaders, have served West Virginia University during the past year.

One morning each spring, early risers are likely to see figures, clothed in black, moving stealthily across the campus. These figures are the members of Mortar Board in their traditional academic black caps and gowns out to tap their new members.

Mortar Board, now in its thirty-ninth year on the West Virginia campus, is the national scholastic honorary for senior women. Seeking to develop the highest type of college woman, the honorary strives for the development and encouragement of college leadership and service, a high degree of scholarship, and loyalty and fellowship among university women.

The honorary's special projects are the annual sale of mums for Homecoming, awards to scholastically outstanding freshman and sophomore women, a book list for freshmen and a graduate study program. This past year they also assisted in the training of WVU students for the General-Electric College Bowl.

MOUNTAIN

Mountain, ranking men's honorary, was established at WVU in 1904 in order to stimulate Mountaineer spirit and provide impetus for greater service to the University. The members are chosen for outstanding leadership, scholarship and service.

Special projects of the honorary are the Mountaineer Week Team, whose members visit state high schools to encourage students to further their education, the selection of the Mountaineer who serves as the living symbol of the University, and the sponsorship of Helvetia. Among the social events sponsored by Mountain are the traditional Mush & Milk Banquet, Homecoming Reception, and a spring banquet.

To provide a feeling of following in the Mountaineer tradition, the honorary requires participation in a rigorous mountain hike prior to initiation.

Have you seen WVU's thirteen-spoked wheel which rolled onto the campus in 1956? You do not have to look far, for the spokes of this wheel are thirteen senior women who are continuously traveling the campus paths of leadership, service, and character. Each Spoke leaves in her trail deeply embedded imprints of her contributions to WVU.

Spokes offers its assistance to the University community and strives to promote a spirit of service among women students and alumnae. The honorary revolves around such projects as the placing of plaques on campus buildings which designate the name and the construction date, and raising money for scholarships through the sale of women's Campus Pacs.

WVU's wheel of thirteen spokes has as its central axis Mrs. Donovan H. Bond.

Silent, mysterious, eternal . . . Symbol of wisdom, leadership, and service . . . Sphinx.

Perhaps "silent" better describes the ancient Sphinx than our own WVU version, for this senior men's honorary is very active on campus—certainly not silent. The Mother's Day Sing and Sphinx Talent Show are both sponsored by the organization. If "scholarship" is substituted for the previously mentioned "wisdom," one has the basis on which the members of Sphinx are chosen. During the year the honorary does much to promote this aspect of college life by presenting the Smith Coburn Award to the freshman male attaining the highest scholastic average and additional awards to the ten freshmen men who top their class scholastically. Since its founding in 1909, Sphinx has given much tradition and service to the University. In the spring of 1962, the organization was accepted as a chapter in the national men's honorary, Blue Key.

West Virginia University not only has the bells of Woodburn that toll across the campus but also has sixteen chimes that ring out each Wednesday night. Chimes, junior women's honorary, was first heard on the campus in 1948. The golden miniature bells, symbol of the organization, belong to women dedicated to promoting the cultural and intellectual development of all junior women.

Special projects of Chimes include selling beanies to freshman women during Freshman Week and giving a party for transfer women students to acquaint them with the campus and to help them feel at home. The organization also gives a donation to the Chimes Loan Fund which aids students in financial need. These "belles" place plaques in E. Moore Hall honoring sophomore and junior women with a 3.5 or better average. The highlight of the year is a trip to Pittsburgh to attend a cultural program.

ORDER OF THE GRAIL

Order of the Grail, West Virginia University's newest honorary, was organized in 1961. It is distinguished among the class honoraries by the fact that its members are selected on the sole basis of scholarship. The twenty-five men of the highest scholastic standing at the end of their third semester become members of the junior men's honorary. The name of the organization is taken from the legend of King Arthur in which the Holy Grail was symbolic of the striving of the knights for greater ideals in conduct. Order of the Grail aims primarily to provide for the members an opportunity for intellectual discussion. During the year, several speakers were heard at informal meetings and coffee-hour get-togethers. Social activities include a party with Chimes, junior women's honorary.

Order of the Grail is sponsored by Dr. Wesley Bagby.

Each spring Indian maidens, wearing navy-blue headbands and crossed arrows on their sleeves, are seen on the campus. These women, outstanding in the qualities of leadership, scholarship, and service, are the newly tapped members of Li-Toon-Awa, sophomore women's honorary. Li-Toon-Awa "invaded" WVU in 1927 and since then has actively served the University community.

Among the honorary's projects and social activities are the annual fall Teepee Tea for freshmen women with a 3.0 or higher average, sponsorship of Freshmen Projects Committee, and the annual presentation of a scholarship to an outstanding freshman woman.

Li-Toon-Awa is an Indian term meaning friendship and the members of the honorary are pledged to help freshmen in any way to make them feel at home on the WVU campus.

Helvetia, sophomore men's honorary, was established at West Virginia University in 1955. Its purposes are to recognize outstanding freshman men and to be of service to the University. Members, selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and service, are chosen at the end of their freshman year and assume membership during their sophomore year.

Among the projects undertaken by Helvetia are the sale of Campus Pacs, sponsorship of a Campus Blood Donor Program, co-sponsorship of Freshmen Projects Committee, and a donation to the WVU Student Loan Program. Helvetia is also responsible for the construction of the Mountaineer for Mountaineer Weekend. At the Mother's Day Sing the honorary annually presents the Freshman Scholarship Award. The main social event of the year is a banquet with Li-Toon-Awa.

Bathrobes flying, canes swinging and derbies rolling, Fi Batar Capar, men's mock honorary, hit the WVU campus in 1914. With their humorous antics and infectious cheering they succeed in lifting WVU spirits at every thuse and home football game, regardless of the score. The members are chosen from the campus social leaders and must undergo a rigorous and animated pledge period.

The badge of Fi Batar Cappar is a small square of genuine leather which is fastened to the jacket with a piece of brass from the ancient brazen calf.

Honorary projects include the donation of trophies for the Homecoming float competition and the annual trophy presentation for the Minor Sport Athlete of the Year.

With their colorful tradition and undaunted spirit, Fi Batar Cappar contributes an indefinable, essential something extra to the campus.

Since that time the members of this fraternity have organized many worthwhile projects, such as operating the University Book Exchange, ushering for the Great Artist Series, conducting guided tours of the campus, and distributing Careers for the College Man.

The purpose of this chapter is to assemble college men of West Virginia University in the fellowship of the Scout Oath and Law, to develop leadership, to promote friendship, to provide service to humanity, and to further the freedom that is our national, educational, and intellectual heritage.

The advisors who insure the high ideals of these banded men are Dr. D. C. Shelton and Glen Bengston.

Associated Women Students is the women's self-governing organization on the campus and includes every woman student enrolled at the University. The central core of AWS is composed of three boards: the Judiciary Board, the Program Board, and the Residence Coordinating Council. The officers of each comprise the seven-member Executive Council which coordinates the activities of the three boards. Each spring women students elect the board members and officers. In the past year, many new rules were initiated and these decisions have undergone a testing period to prove their fitness and workability.

West Virginia University's AWS is a member of I.A.W.S., the national organization comprising over two hundred schools which strive for one ideal: the education and development of a woman academically, culturally, and socially.

Miss Betty Boyd, Dean of Women, is the advisor for AWS.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Sitting in an advisory capacity for the president of the student body, the Executive Council makes reports and recommendations for new programs to the Legislature, organizes and administers projects coming before the Council, and supervises the committee system by creating any committees and offices within its organization it deems necessary. A very special project of the Council this year was the State Centennial Youth Corps. The Executive Council includes the president and vice-president of the student body and the president and vice-president of each class.

STUDENT LEGISLATURE

The Student Legislature is the policy-making branch of Student Government. The Legislature ratifies or rejects all appointments proposed by the Executive Council, determines rules of Freshmen tradition, appropriates Student Government funds, and reviews reports of student committees and organizations under its jurisdiction. This body has the power to make regulations necessary to promote the general welfare of the students and is responsible for the establishment of a meaningful program for the Student Body. STUDENT COURT

The Student Court is composed of seven judges: the Emperor of Sphinx, Summit of Mountain, President of Mortar Board, President of AWS, and three members appointed by the Student Body President. The Court sits in judgment and renders decisions on all violations of the rules and regulations of the University except for rules promulgated by AWS and offenses of a scholarly nature. The violations may be presented by the Executive Council, Student Legislature, the Director of Student Affairs, or any member of the student body. The Court also acts as a constitutional interpreter with the responsibility of proposing corrections in form and content to any amendment.

AWARENESS COMMISSION

The purpose of the Awareness Commission, comprising three committees, is to promote interest and knowledge in international and national affairs and to instill in the students a greater pride in the culture and traditions of West Virginia. International Awareness annually sponsors an International Awareness Week and is responsible for selecting guides for foreign students. The National Awareness Committee worked this year in coordination with the University Civil Defense Committee and planned a National Awareness Week. The special project of State Awareness was the Centennial Youth Corps.

The Co-ordinators of Student Affairs are concerned with planning student week ends, high-school relations, orientation programs, and improving the spirit of West Virginia University. The co-ordinators are appointed by the Executive Council and approved by Student Legislature. They do not function as a group but are individually responsible for the success of a particular activity designed to benefit the entire student body and the welfare of the school in general. Some of the projects of the co-ordinators are Spiriteers, Orientation programs, Homecoming, and Mountaineer Weekend.

AUXILIARY AGENCIES

Conducting a major portion of the routine but necessary work of Student Government is the responsibility of the Auxiliary Agencies. Off-Campus Housing, Queens Election and Student Discount Committees have joined with Public Relations, Publicity, Finance and Election Committees to form a larger core group. These committees are concerned directly with the internal organization of Student Government. Many hours are spent by each committee to ensure the student body of more efficiently executed elections, better off-campus relations, and well-supervised expenditures.

SECRETARIAT

Chosen from Civil Service applications, the girls of the Secretariat contribute their time and energy to do a large portion of the paper work involved in Student Government. These secretaries do typing for all correspondence, schedules, reports, and other miscellaneous items. Along with this, their other duties involve those of acting as receptionists, answering the phone, keeping the filing system in order and helping with the scrapbook.

PUBLICATION COMMITTEE

The Publications Committee functions as a supervising body for all authorized publications of the University. It serves to insure competent performances by the members of student publications and to protect West Virginia University from injury resulting from irresponsible journalism. The committee is composed of the advisors of all authorized publications, a legal advisor, and three student members selected by Student Government.

Among the responsibilities of this group are those of acting as an advisor in legal and policy-making matters and appointing executives for student publications. The committee meets twice each semester to review the financial and budget reports of the publications and to study any complaints made against them.

Though a mirror may reflect a constant image, the multitude of campus windows, snatching at the passing scene in vain, catch only brief, fragmentary images. The 1963 MONTICOLA attempts to capture these reflections in a variety of pictures and words for you, their creators. Every phase of campus life and activity—from Administration, Organizations, Leadership and Service and Events to Greeks, Royalty, Sports and Classes—has been recorded on these pages.

Although preliminary plans were made last spring, the real work began soon after classes started in September. Editors and staff members spent many long hours rewriting copy, scheduling and rescheduling pictures, selecting "the" caption. Trying to meet the always unmet deadline, classes were cut, dinners missed, vacations shortened, papers undone, and sleep lost. Yet, plans progressed and finally the work was over—the MONTICOLA was completed!

DAILY ATHENAEUM

Most University students burn the midnight oil studying but some burn the oil for another reason—getting the Daily Athenaeum ready to go to press.

The DA, as most students refer to it, was first published in 1987 and is celebrating its 75th anniversary this school year. Published four times a week, the student newspaper has a staff composed of students in the School of Journalism. The Daily Athenaeum, for the first time as a daily newspaper, used full format this year.

The DA is a member of the West Virginia Press Association and the Associated Collegiate Press.

MOUNTAINLAIR

Hats off to Mountainlair, which has broadened its activities this year to become an even more integral part of our campus community. The Executive and Program Councils, under the competent direction of Mr. Danny O'Sullivan, planned and executed many diversified programs of activities which appealed not only to the students, but to faculty members as well.

The Decorations and Social Committees, working together, sponsored the annual 'Lair Christmas Ball, which glittered and gleamed to the music of the Canadian Dance Band of Ron Metcalfe.

Mountainlair committees proved their abilities and talents by accepting the added responsibility of planning two of West Virginia University's biggest weekends, Mountaineer Weekend and Spring Spree. Mountaineer Weekend entertained all with the half-time ceremonies at the football game on Saturday afternoon and with the annual Mountaineer Dance. One of the major attractions of the weekend this year was the Powder Puff Football game in which the girls got their chance to make a few passes.

Special projects of the Fine Arts and Displays Committee have been the sponsoring of a state-wide High School Art Contest. These works were displayed during Greater West Virginia Weekend, and prizes were awarded the outstanding entries. The purpose of this program was to arouse a greater interest in the University Art Department as well as to encourage the students' personal interest. These committees also succeeded in having various traveling exhibits with the highlight being the space exhibit from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

One of Mountainlair's activities of long standing is the TGIF parties. However, this year, instead of rock 'n' roll, students have been entertained by an afternoon of jazz which has also been quite educational with the beginnings, rhythms, and other fundamentals of jazz being explained at various concerts. Another innovation which has met with great success is the series of book reviews given by members of the faculty. This program is not only informative but also provides an opportunity for the exchange of ideas and for better faculty-student relationships.

The activities of the Tournaments Committee provided a lot of enjoyment for the students with several outstanding programs. A new and fun-filled event was the Water Carnival which campus groups entered for fun and excitement. The committee members also succeeded in sponsoring an exhibition by Willy Mosconi, the world's Pocket Billiards Champion.

The programs this year have been well planned and successful due to the hard work and great interest of the committee members and the leadership and direction of Danny O'Sullivan and Robert McWhorter, Director of Mountainlair. However, with all its work Mountainlair is still striving for new and different ideas, following the motto, "Variety is the spice of life."

ORGANIZATIONS

"Variety is the mother of Enjoyment" and this is especially true for every Mountaineer. The spiritual and social development of every West Virginia University student rank in importance with intellectual growth. The ability to work efficiently with all types of people and the practical application of knowledge learned in the classroom help to create a well-rounded individual who will be able to use his abilities to his best advantage in future years. The many campus organizations at West Virginia University demonstrate the fact that our school is a thriving institution interested in educating the "whole person," an establishment which can fulfill the supplementary interests of each student as well as his educational requirements.

The great variety of organizations reflects the diversity of the student body. Prospective engineers, teachers, doctors, lawyers, musicians, and pharmacists are all represented on campus by various honorary and fraternal associations. Each of these groups emphasizes the development of high standards in its field, service to the University, and the practical aspects of the profession.

The many other organizations on campus have arisen for the purpose of meeting the individual needs and interests of each student. For those who find enjoyment in physical activity, Dolphin and Orchesis provide an opportunity for fun and learning. For amateur musicians as well as professionals, the University Band and the University Choir offer opportunities for training and experience.

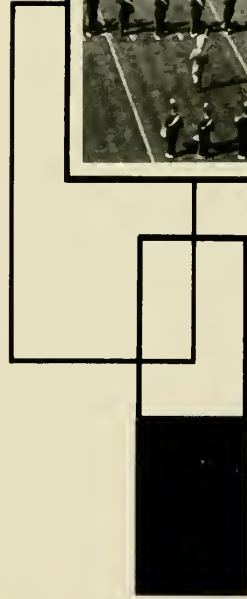

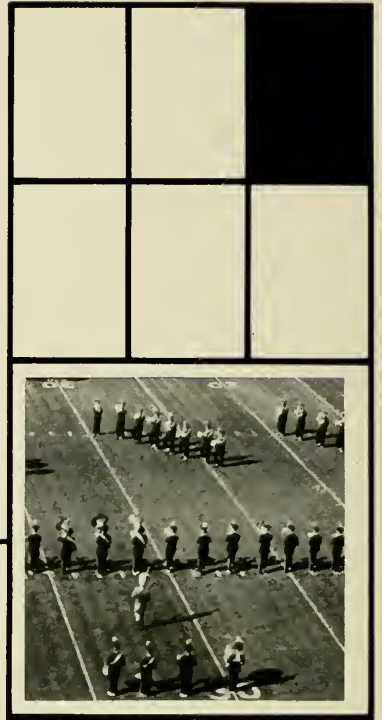

In addition to recreation and learning, the University provides students of all faiths with opportunities for spiritual growth. Various denominational foundations, the YMCA, and the YWCA serve as the ground work for a full and rewarding college career and foster friendship, service, and understanding among all members of the University community.

Alpha Psi Omega, dramatics honorary, was organized on the West Virginia University campus in 1920. Professor Joe Ford sponsors the group which consists of thirteen members. Together they strive to develop dramatic talent, to cultivate an interest in drama, and to foster the cultural values which dramatics develops. The two special projects of the honorary are giving support to the University Theatre Program and aiding in the sale of University season tickets. Each year plaques are awarded to the best actor and actress, best supporting actor and actress, and the outstanding senior in theatre work.

ALPHA TAU ALPHA

Alpha Tau Alpha, having the dual purpose of training future agricultural teachers to take their place as community leaders and of providing an atmosphere of fellowship in which members are able to exchange ideas and educational views, was organized on the West Virginia University campus in 1950. Among the projects of the group are special programs featuring prominent speakers and a display for Greater West Virginia Weekend. Each year a representative is sent to the national Alpha Tau Alpha conclave and an outstanding member of the local chapter is selected. Some of the social events include the annual banquet, a Christmas party, and the spring picnic.

ALPHA ZETA

West Virginia University's agricultural fraternity, Alpha Zeta, was organized on campus in 1922. The main goal of the group is to establish and encourage leadership in the field of agriculture and other related areas through the functioning of the honorary's thirty members. Scholarship and participation in campus activities are the two qualifications for membership. Each year those members who display outstanding achievement in the fields of agriculture, forestry and home economics are given awards. A special project of the group is the sale of apple cider during Mountaineer Weekend. Climaxing the year is a banquet for members and alumni. Dr. E. H. Tryon is the fraternity's advisor.

The West Virginia Chapter of the American Institute of Industrial Engineers was established on this campus in order to promote the professional development of future industrial engineers. Discussions concerning the theory and practice of all aspects of industrial engineering, as well as allied fields, are held under the guidance of men from the professional ranks of the field. Plant tours of nearby industries and special conferences further aid the individual member in his professional growth. As a special project, the 70 members publish an engineering bulletin, the Newsletter, and each year present the Outstanding Industrial Engineering Student Award to a member of superior merit.

J. T. Black serves as advisor to the group.

AMERICAN PHARMACEUTICAL ASSOCIATION

The purpose of the student branch of the American Pharmaceutical Association is to increase the students' awareness of the opportunities and values which accompany their profession. Since its organization on the West Virginia University campus in 1948, the group has persistently worked to fulfill the obligations of the purpose. In order to gain more insight into the career, the members visit a manufacturer of pharmaceuticals to inspect both the operating and research facilities. Each year the organization sponsors a reception for new pharmacy students, maintains a display and participates in National Pharmacy Week. Dr. Charles Blissett sponsors the organization.

CAVALETTES

Cavalettes, organized in 1957, has become an integral part of campus life in the short time since its establishment. The group provides an opportunity for Independent Women Students to band together and participate in many worthwhile, traditional projects. In addition, the Cavalettes also enjoy the social aspects of campus life and celebrate each year with parties of various kinds. Among their most-remembered events is their annual formal which highlights the year's activities. Rounding out the social calendar are bowling parties, a swimming party, pizza party, picnics, and a Christmas party. During the year several major projects fill the time of each member. These include the decoration of the Homecoming Queen's float and the annual Hawaiian party for freshman women. Being a relatively new organization has not kept this group of girls from forming quickly their clear-cut ideals and purposes, which are to serve as an expression for independent women, socially, culturally, and educationally. Good leadership and advice are necessary for any successful group and the Cavalettes are fortunate to have Mrs. Kathryn Buswell as their sponsor.

The Cosmopolitan Club was organized on the West Virginia University campus in 1952 and has approximately 180 members. The club strives for better international understanding among the free-world members. The group meets with its sponsor, Mrs. Nell Leonian, twice a month. One meeting is a friendly social gathering for relaxation from studies. The other is a cultural gathering to which speakers are invited to discuss different countries and various international events. The main project of the organization is the presentation of International Night. The theme last year was "Eighty Minutes Around the World," in which the interesting cultural and social customs of countries throughout the globe were highlighted. Also, each year two picnics are enjoyed, one in the fall given by the International Awareness Commission and the other in the spring. Other social events include a Thanksgiving dance and a Christmas dance.

DOLPHIN

Diving into the depths of the Mountainlair 'sea' are sixty student "fish" who comprise the organization known as Dolphin. Dolphin, swimming honorary, was organized in 1936 to afford those who enjoy swimming an opportunity to participate in the sport together. In the fall new members are pledged and given the title of "Little Fins." It is not until after the spring pageant that they are initiated and officially called "Big Fins."

Throughout the year instruction is given in basic swimming skills, fundamental synchronized swimming and water ballet. Both Big and Little Fins practice diligently in preparation for their spring pageant which is one of the spring highlights. Under the supervision of Miss Kitty Blakemore, Dolphin this year presented "The Academy Goes Aquatic" in which clever and colorful acts portrayed various Academy Award winners.

After the work and excitement of the pageant have passed, the members relax at the annual picnic—a fun-filled 'fin-nish' to the year's activities.

PERSHING RIFLES

Pershing Rifles was organized on the campus in 1955 to provide military training and leadership for basic ROTC cadets. This year, the enrollment of Company S-1 swelled to one of the highest on record. With the installation of approximately 80 basic military students, Pershing Rifles started the year's activities with a bivouac at Chestnut Ridge. The men were put through a leadership-reaction test which consisted of six tactical problems. The bivouac was a success and another one was planned for April. The Company selected Kathy Whittington as its sponsor and crowned her queen of the Pershing Rifles Ball, the social highlight of the year.

Pi Tau Sigma, established in 1942, has as its purposes the fostering of the high ideals of the engineering profession, the stimulation of interest in its activities, and the promotion of the professional welfare of its members. The primary project of the organization is to deliver an informative lecture to mechanical engineering freshmen to aid them in the engineering profession and to orient them to the object and activities of the national association and the local Pi Gamma chapter. The organization annually presents an award to an outstanding sophomore and junior in mechanical engineering. Social activities include an initiation banquet and the Engineers Ball.

PSI CHI

Psi Chi, psychology honorary, was organized on the campus of West Virginia University in 1948. Its purposes are to advance the science of psychology and to encourage and maintain the scholarship of the individual members in all fields, with special emphasis on psychology. The members are selected from psychology majors who have exhibited a high degree of scholastic achievement. Among the special projects of the honorary is the binding of journals for the psychology graduate room of the Psi Chi library.

The sponsor of the organization is Dr. Arthur Thomas.

RECREATION CLUB

Organized on this campus in 1956, the West Virginia University Professional Recreation Society unites into one organization all students who plan to enter the field of recreation. Each year this organization invites outstanding recreation administrators to speak to its thirty-five members concerning the various aspects involved in this occupation. Other special projects of the group include providing volunteer recreation leadership and service to organizations throughout the state. The "Get-Acquainted" party, fall party, winter camping trip, winter sports outing and a spring picnic are among the social events of the year.

John G. Gcherlacher and Joseph M. Hutchinson, Jr., serve as co-sponsors for the organization.

SCABBARD AND BLADE

Scabbard and Blade, the national ROTC honor society, was founded on the West Virginia University campus in 1916 in order to develop better military-civilian relationships, encourage potential officers, and spread information concerning military requirements. The thirty-nine members of the honorary serve the University through such activities as acting as honor guards for the Homecoming and Military Ball Queens and conducting the flag-raising ceremonies at sports events. Each month an award is given to an outstanding cadet, and a trophy is presented to the company exhibiting superior achievement during the year. The members of Scabbard and Blade climax the activities of the year with a banquet prior to the Military Ball.

SIGMA DELTA

Sigma Delta, West Virginia University's youngest sorority, was organized in 1961. Its purpose is to unite undergraduate University women of the Jewish faith into a social sorority which eventually hopes to reactivate the charter of the national sorority, Sigma Delta Tau. The fourteen members have as their special projects a party for the residents of Sundale Rest Home and fund-raising card parties. Social activities of Sigma Delta consist of an Alumnae Dinner and a spring party, plus pledge parties and desserts. The organization is represented by members in Chimes, Student Government and the MONTICOLA staff.

SIGMA DELTA CHI

Organized on the campus of West Virginia University in 1959, Sigma Delta Chi is a national organization encompassing those who intend to serve in journalism. At the monthly meetings, its fifteen members discuss special projects, such as the selling of programs at home basketball games. They also invite qualified speakers to lecture on various aspects of journalism. The purpose of the organization is to assist members in acquiring the principles of journalism and to advance the standards of the press by fostering a higher ethical code. Annually a scholarship is awarded to an outstanding journalism student. Also, each year the University Chapter has a joint initiation with the Duquesne and Pittsburgh Chapters.

SIGMA TAU SIGMA

The English majors study about the Tudor Family, which reigned in England from 1485 to 1603. West Virginia has its own Twentieth Century "Tudor" family, Sigma Tau Sigma. This national student tutoring society was organized on the WVU campus in the spring of 1959. It is composed of students who have a 3.0 or better over-all average and who are of junior or senior standing. In addition to offering tutoring services to the student body, Sigma Tau Sigma sponsors a "Book of the Year," which all students are encouraged to read in order to widen their intellectual horizons. A $100 scholarship is also granted each year to a student financially and scholastically deserving of the award.

Dr. Donald J. Horvath is the advisor for the organization.

SIGMA THETA EPSILON

Sigma Theta Epsilon, the national Methodist fraternity for college men, was established on this campus in 1939. At the Wednesday-evening meeting, various programs are presented which aid in the Christian development of the individual members. Preparation in the art of living by Christian ideals and promoting fellowship for all men of Methodist preference remain the primary goals of the fraternity. The members are taught to apply the ideals of Christian honor and character to their lives through private worship. The social activities are held at Wesley Foundation, headquarters for the group, and include parties, outings, and a pledge-active banquet.

UNIVERSITY MARCHING BAND

DAVID WALKER
Drum Major

In another season of fine performances, West Virginia University's traditional all-male marching band displayed outstanding spirit, color, and pageantry in their snappy gold-and-blue uniforms and precise formations under the competent direction of Francis Borkowski. Aided by the Spiriteers, this group executed field formations, supplemented by a commentary, for the entertainment of Mountaineer fans during half-time activities. This year's drum major, David Walker, and the two twirlers, Charles Welshans and Joe Simon, did a fine job with their talent and leadership to add to the success of the performances. The spirit and enthusiasm shown by this group is exemplified by the fact that more than half of the membership is composed of non-music majors.

As one of the few women's organizations on campus that cuts through all social groups, the Young Women's Christian Association was established at West Virginia University in 1906. YWCA members unite in the desire to realize a full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God. This year, emphasis on programming has been directed to four interest-group areas: Hot Spots, Christian Concerns, Morals and Ethics, and State Awareness. Five WVU delegates attended the National Student Assembly at the University of Illinois and returned with many new ideas.

Special projects include Asian and African book drives, remedial reading for the Scott's Run Settlement House and Freshman Week Vespers. "Y" calendars are known to every busy coed as a "must." Many students have appreciated the Coffee Hours which provide that extra spurt of energy.

The activities of YWCA are under the guidance of Mrs. Charles Shetler, who served as Executive Director for the first time this year.

DISCIPLE STUDENT FELLOWSHIP

The Disciple Student Fellowship furnished a program for the Christian Church students enrolled at the University. The objective of the Fellowship is to encourage each student to examine closely the purpose and scope of the Christian way of life and to apply his knowledge of God and the teachings of the Bible to his own personal life. The Sunday-evening meetings provide the students with both Christian fellowship and a chance to express their religious ideas and beliefs. Among the projects of the organization are the Thanksgiving Vespers Service, the Christmas Cantata, and the spring retreat.

The Newman Club, established on the University campus in 1917, is dedicated to the religious, educational, and social welfare of Catholic students. Under the direction of Father Stanley MacNevin, weekly meetings are held in Newman Hall, the center of club activity. The 250 members engage in various special projects such as a Christmas party for underprivileged children and a drive to collect toys for a nearby orphanage. The numerous social events enjoyed by the organization include a fall picnic, a fall dance, a Thanksgiving party, a Christmas party, and pizza parties. Throughout the year, socials are held each Wednesday evening. This year Newman Club was selected to host the Regional Conference which included student representatives from Concord College, Glenville State College, and West Virginia Wesleyan College.

The purpose of Wesley Foundation, organized on the campus of West Virginia University in 1925, is to provide religious training and guidance for Methodist students. Wesley Foundation provides a place to which students may go to discuss their ideas and problems and to find fellowship.

The worship program of Wesley Foundation consists of religious classes each Sunday morning and an evening program on Sunday nights. These evening meetings include a speaker, discussion, film and a short devotional. Other functions of the Foundation include having study groups and recreational activities during the week. This group also sponsors a student choir and a drama group. The main project of Wesley Foundation for the past four years has been sponsoring, by a scholarship, Wilfred Boayue, an "International Student" from Liberia.

Mr. David Kirk, minister to the students, serves as sponsor for the organization.

The Reverend David Kirk, Minister to the Students, discusses programming with members.

ROYALTIES

A glittering crown . . . a glowing trophy . . . a delicate bouquet . . . a burst of approval from the spectators. At this moment, another name is added to the list of kings and queens for special weekends and functions.

The selection of West Virginia University Royalty to grace such occasions is done in a variety of ways. Outstanding seniors are nominated by the campus honoraries to compose the candidacy for the titles of Miss and Mr. Mountaineer, who are selected by prominent West Virginians. Candidates for Homecoming Queen are nominated by the sororities, Town Women, Arnold Hall, and Cavalettes. The queen is then chosen by a campus-wide election. A panel of faculty members select Men's Panhellenic Queen from the fraternity-sponsored candidates. The Aero-Space Ball Queen and the Military Ball Queen are selected from the AFROTC and ROTC sponsors.

The MONTICOLA Queen is annually chosen by a nationally-known celebrity and this year the candidates for the honor were nominated by the sororities, Arnold Hall, and Town Women. The section is concluded by our state's gracious and charming reigning queen, Miss West Virginia, who presides over many state functions throughout the year.

These students, whether selected on appearance, leadership, poise, or a combination of these, are known by most of the student body, for these are the familiar faces seen laughing at Jimmy's, hurrying to a meeting, studying for finals at the library, or decorating a float. Most of all, they are known for being WVU Royalty.

Dear Miss Lawrence:

I am very pleased to have you select the Monticola Royalty for the 1967-68 season.

I am sure you realize how difficult it is to select a group of people who are not only talented but also have the ability to perform on a national level. I am sure you will find the group you select to be a very talented group.

For the 1967-68 season, I am sure you will find the group you select to be a very talented group.

I am sure you will find the group you select to be a very talented group.

Bert Parks

A well-known authority in the realm of royalty after his long association with the Miss America Pageant, Bert Parks has selected Carolyn Zeller as the 1963 MONTICOLA Queen. Carolyn—petite, brown-eyed brunette, enchanting smile. She has chosen to major in speech and her future plans include graduate work in speech therapy at the University of Virginia.

Carolyn has been active on campus as shown by her participation in Student Legislature, Alpha Psi Omega, University Players, and serving as ROTC sponsor. Although busy with her activities, Carolyn has ranked high scholastically. Her honors include membership in Li-Toon-Awa, Chimes, and Sigma Tau Sigma.

Her sponsoring sorority, Delta Gamma, and MONTICOLA are proud to present such a lovely and deserving lady as the 1963 queen.

GREEKS

Fraternities—this word alone recalls memories of dates, serenades, combo parties, and just plain fun. However, the Greek organizations on the campus of West Virginia University represent much more—leadership, work, scholarship, and friendship. Each of the eleven sororities and nineteen fraternities serves as a window into a world of high standards, inspiration, and tradition.

Nevertheless, social functions are a very important part of Greek life at WVU. Formal rush and pledging are held early in the fall and always prove to be hectic but memorable experiences for both actives and prospective pledges. With the excitement of rush over, parties, parties, and more parties occupy week ends. Flappers, bums, fierce Northmen, lovely girls in shimmering formals, L'il Abners and Daisy Mae's—all these are part of the festive week-end scene from September to May.

Traditional inter-Greek activities play a vital role in sorority and fraternity life. Events such as the Sphinx Talent Show and the Mother's Day Sing hold coveted awards for which each Greek group works diligently each year. Various dances and events sponsored by the Panhellenic and Inter-Fraternity Councils serve as the framework for strong inter-Greek relations.

The Greek organizations realize the need for their attention to be directed to matters other than those dealing directly with their own groups. Charity and service projects such as hospital work, assistance to crippled children, and awards to outstanding students in various fields of study help to promote excellence in the classroom, community, state, and nation.

Perhaps the greatest benefits of Greek organizations are the friendships and the strong feeling of brotherhood and sisterhood—a tie which no amount of discouragement and disappointment can sever. All the memories—working until dawn on a Homecoming float, Christmas caroling, initiation, the spring formals—remain among the fondest recollections of a college career, along with the sisters and brothers who shared these happy times.

Panhellenic Council, under the leadership of Mrs. Mary Jane Schuster, is composed of a junior and senior representative from each sorority. Panhellenic furthers cooperation among the various sororities through such projects as exchange dinners and the Panhellenic Dance. Striving to promote the interests of Greek organizations on campus, the Council arranges special convocations such as the Panhellenic Leadership Conference and works closely with the Inter-Fraternity Council in planning Greek Week. Panhellenic actively encourages academic achievement in sororities by presenting a scholarship trophy to the sorority having the highest average for one calendar year, a scholarship plaque each semester to the sorority maintaining the highest average, and a pledge scholarship to the pledge class with the highest average. Future plans discussed during the year include a revised rush system and a method for encouraging new sororities to establish on campus. Panhellenic also sponsors Junior Panhellenic which is composed of two members from each pledge class. This group holds an informal party for all pledges, schedules pledge breakfasts, and entertains faculty children at a Christmas party.

ALPHA DELTA PI

Alpha Delta Pi was founded at Wesleyan Female College, Macon, Georgia, in 1851. It moved north to West Virginia University in 1927 when Alpha Epsilon chapter was organized. The Alpha Delta Pi's each contributed to the Penny-a-Month Fund, sponsored by KDKA for a children's hospital, and to the Easter Seal campaign. The national philanthropy project is contributing a penny-a-day bank for crippled children. The ADPi Homecoming dragon—with human legs—crawled down High Street to capture third-place honors. The annual social events include a Christmas party and a Founder's Day Tea. The party for graduating sisters is highlighted by a talent show, a gift, and refreshments. April is the month for the Blue and White Formal which climaxes the social calendar.

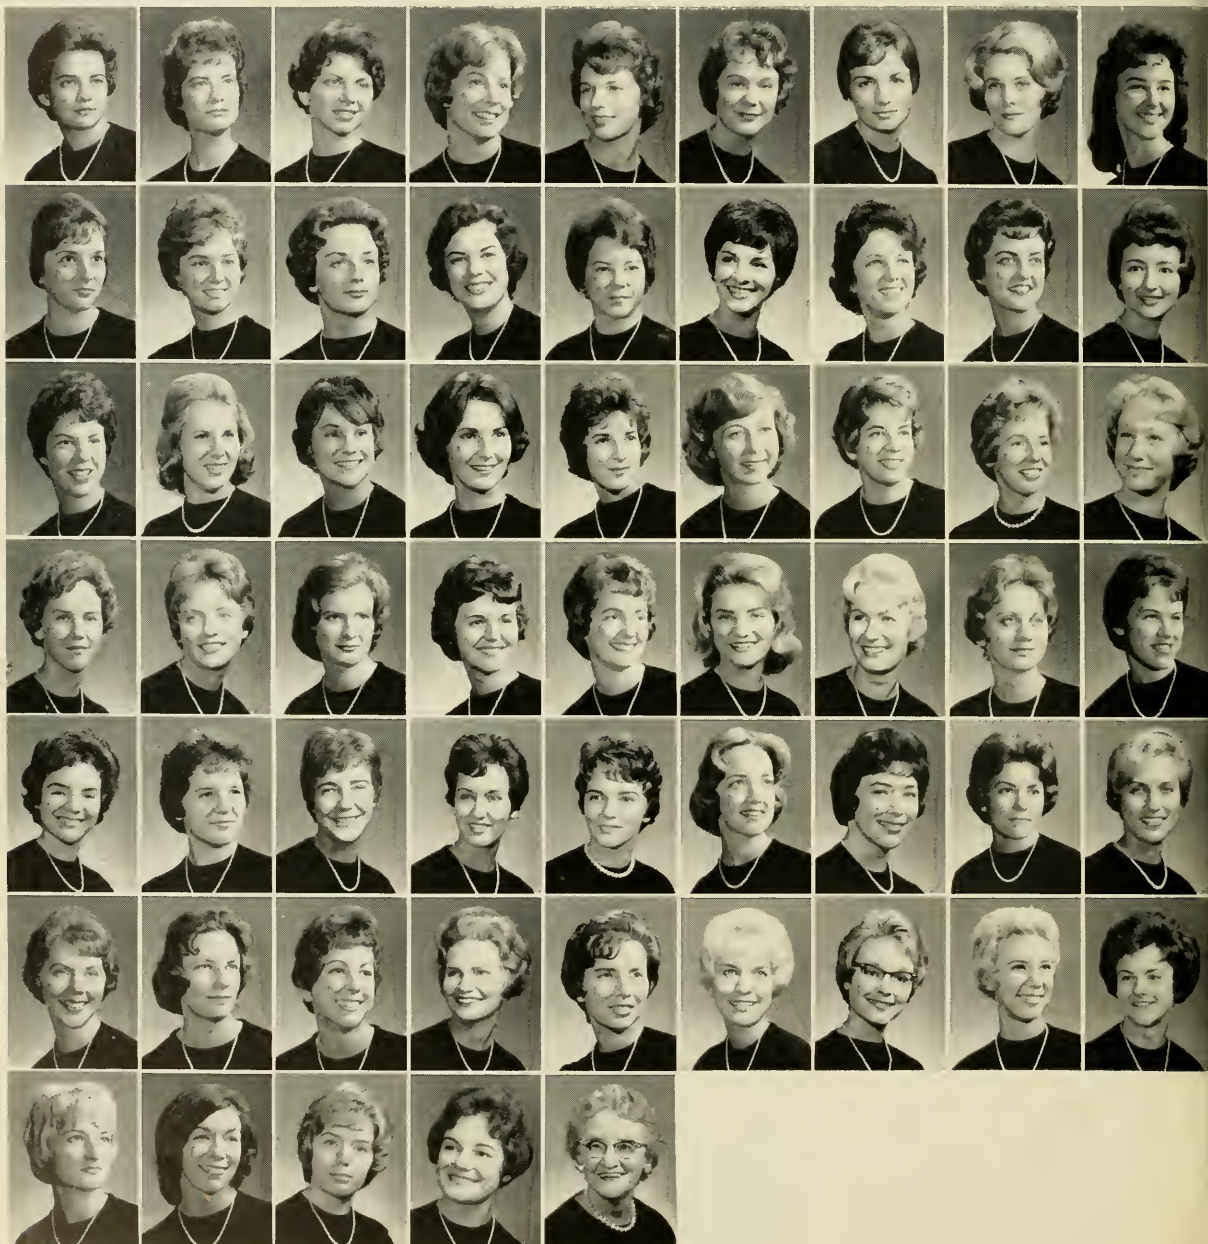

The chief officers of the sorority are: Sandy Ross, President; Sue Jones, Vice-president; Martha Post, Recording Secretary; Jocele Lynch, Corresponding Secretary; Mary Lou Gresham, Treasurer.

Alpha Phi originated at Syracuse University in 1872 and Beta Iota chapter organized at West Virginia University in 1930, moving into the oldest house in Morgantown. Although some Alpha Phi's say that 97% of their members spend their time knitting and 3% studying, someone finds time to contribute to the Heart Fund and serve as aids at the Vincent Pallotti Hospital. They also impersonated hoboes to win the second-place trophy in the 1962 Sphinx Talent Show. The Alpha Phi social events include a Christmas Party, a Homecoming open house, a Mountaineer Weekend reception, and several desserts. The Alpha Phi Formal is held in March.

ALPHA XI DELTA

Founded at Lombard College in 1893, Alpha Xi Delta now has 106 chapters. When Iota chapter came to West Virginia University in 1905, it was the first national sorority on campus. The "Fuzzies" are especially proud of their scholarship record for 1961-62—first among the sororities—and their third-place award in the 1963 Sphinx Talent Show. All girls at 618 Spruce Street enjoy entertaining in the "Pines." At Christmas they turn the entire house into a candle-and-pine wonderland for their annual party. The social event in the spring is the Rose Banquet and Formal. The Alpha Xi's also have a surprise party for the seniors and a Founder's Day program. One of the favorite study breaks for the "Fuzzies" is giving a surprise coke party for another sorority.

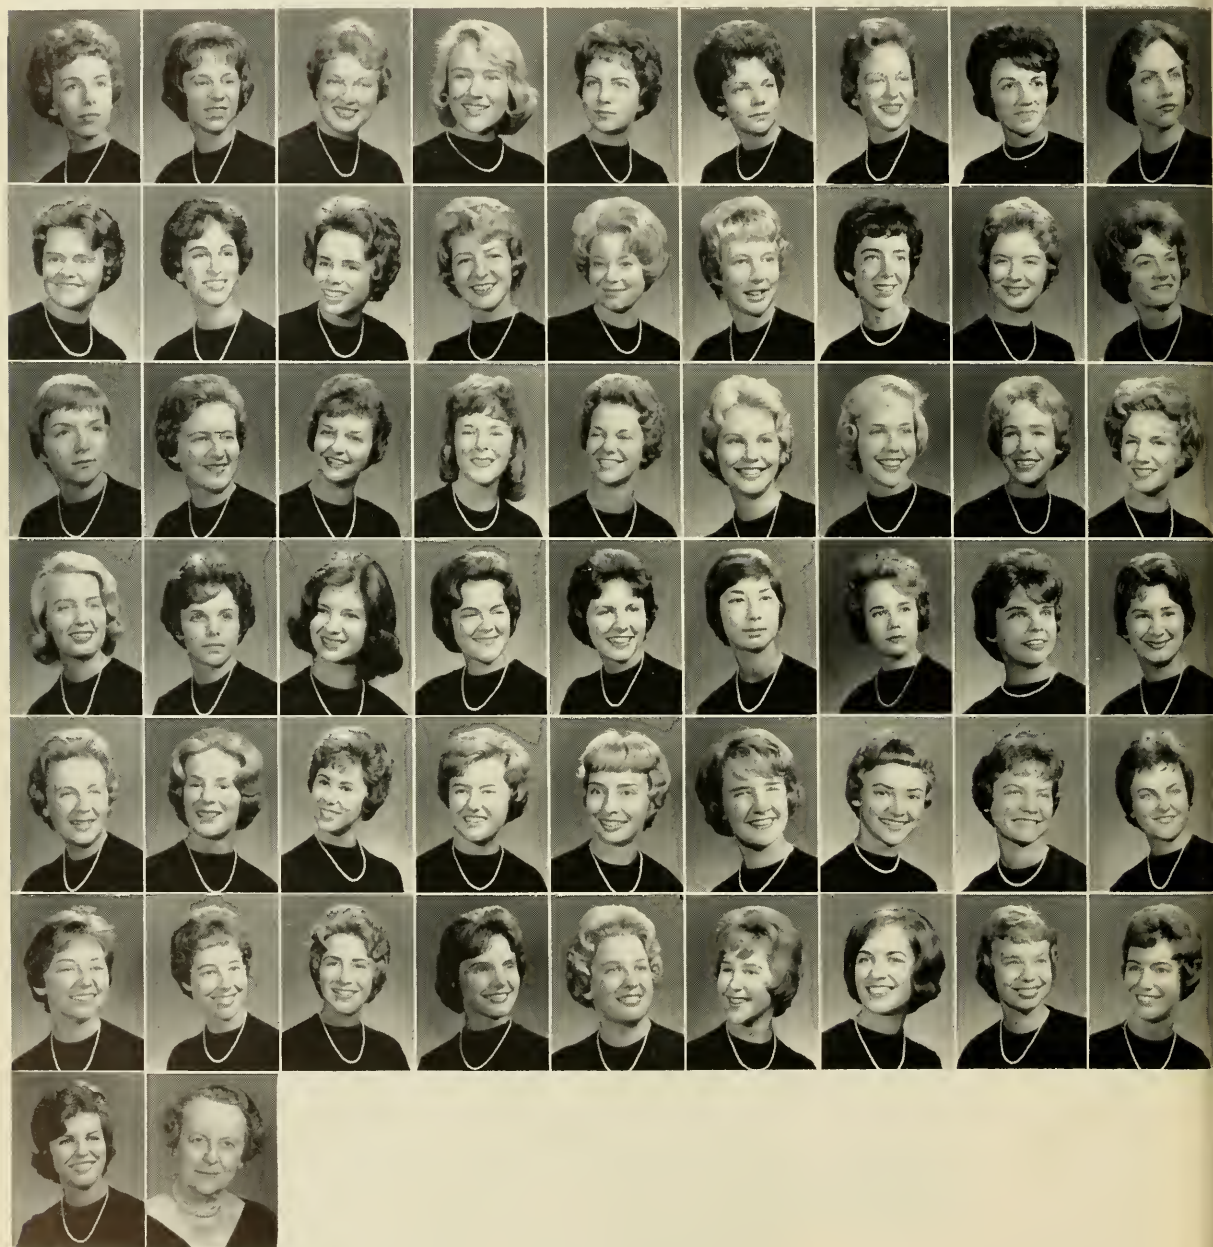

Sorority officers include: Carol Wilson, President; Margaret Harris, Vice-president; Linda Swiger, Recording Secretary; Nancy Spitznogle, Corresponding Secretary; Jean De Wick, Treasurer.

Although Theta chapter may have a house that looks like a bank, the Chi Omegas operate more as singing sisters than as a financial concern. Their 55 voices won the 1962 Mother's Day Sing as they joined to present "Comin' Thru the Rye." Their "bank" also formed a perfect backdrop for "Centennial Seal" which placed third in the Mountaineer Weekend house decorations. It provided, too, a perfect place to practice for the 1963 Sphinx Talent Show and this resulted in a second-place trophy. Chi Omega was founded at the University of Arkansas in 1895 and came to West Virginia University in 1905. The Chi O's have a Fall and Spring Eleusinia for the alumnae. The Spring Formal in April concludes the year's social events.

The 1962-63 officers of the sorority were: Missie Conaway, President; Kemp Littlepage, Vice-President; Karen Butler, Secretary; Barbara Mummart, Treasurer.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

Phi Iota chapter of Delta Delta Delta spent its first year in the new chapter house at 652 Spruce Street. It formed a good "stage" for their Mountaineer Weekend house decorations entitled "Diamond in the Rough," which won the second-place trophy. Delta Delta Delta was founded on Thanksgiving Eve, 1888, at Boston University. Phi Iota came to West Virginia University in 1955. The local chapter annually awards a scholarship of $100 to any deserving undergraduate woman enrolled in the university. The Tri Deltas give an Apple Polishing Party each year to which each member brings her favorite professor and presents him with an apple, other refreshments, and entertainment. They also have a Christmas party and the Spring Formal in May.

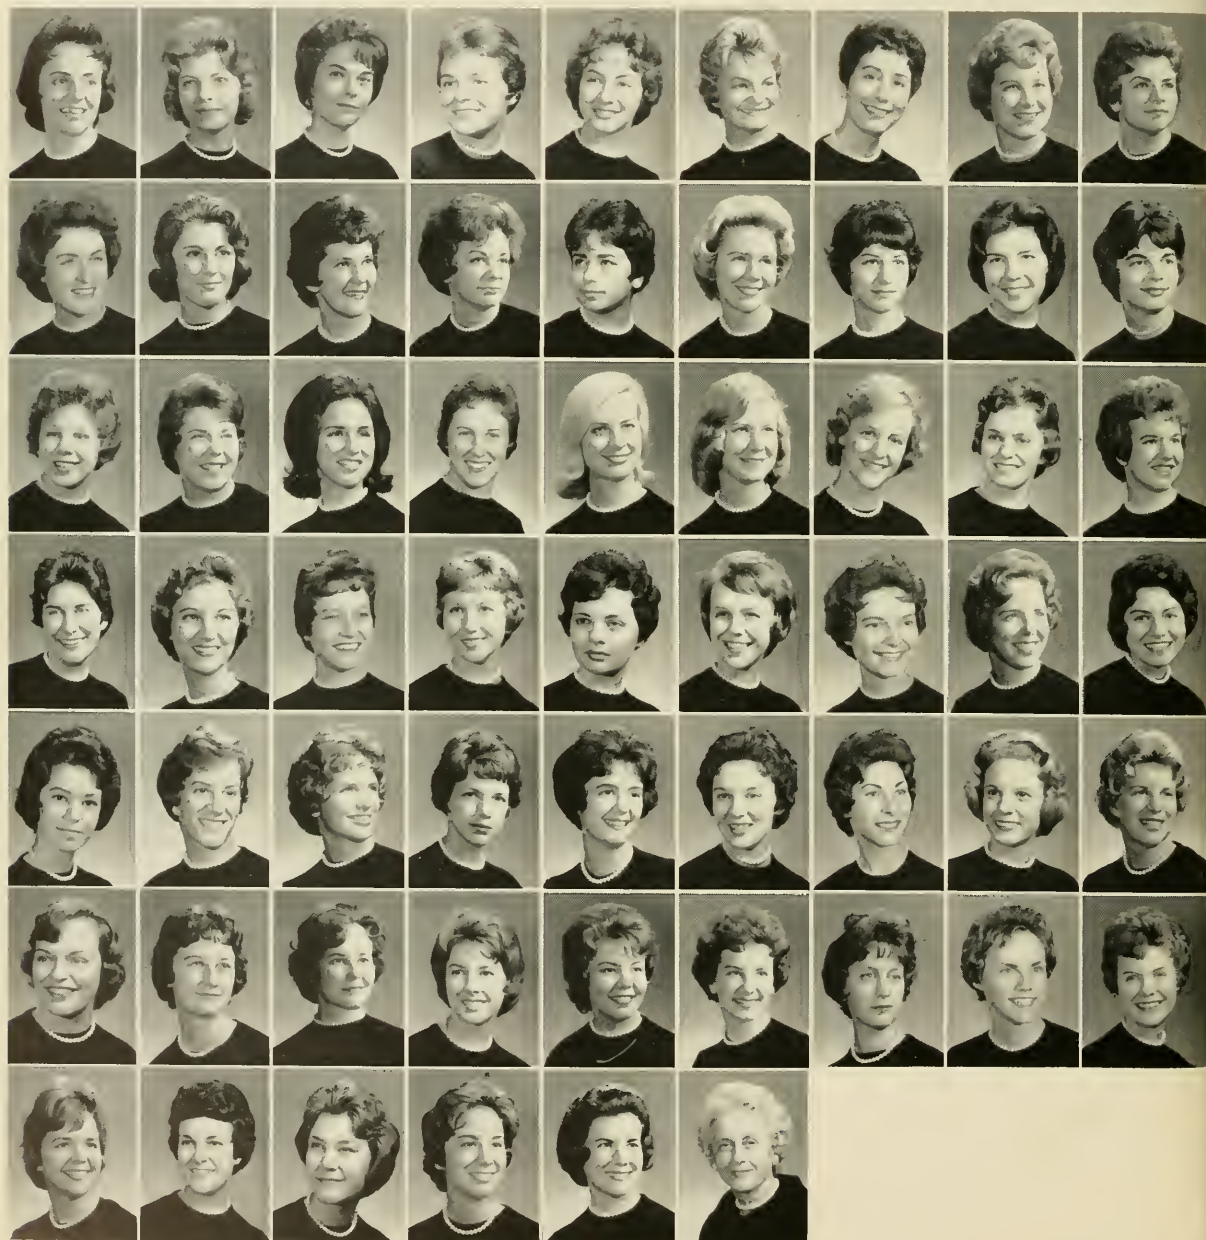

Officers of the sorority include: Dixie Hawse, President; Peggy Fitzgerald, Vice-President; Georgia Whipkey, Recording Secretary; Lynda McDowell, Treasurer.

DELTA GAMMA

Alpha Xi chapter of Delta Gamma came to West Virginia University in 1922. Nationally, the sorority was organized at Lewis Institute, Oxford, Mississippi, in 1873. The D G's offer scholarships and other aids to foreign students, encouraging international education. They also give aid to the blind in a program for sight conservation. "Hitch Your Wagon to a Star" captured second place among the sororities in the Homecoming parade. The "Anchor Wearers" also won third place in the 1962 Mother's Day Sing, presenting "Prayer from Hansel and Gretel." The social calendar included a Christmas party and a Golddigger's Party on Golddigger's Weekend for the sisters' dates. The Delta Gamma Spring Formal was held in April. The D G's also spent some time serenading the Sigma Nus in order to retrieve their stolen anchor.

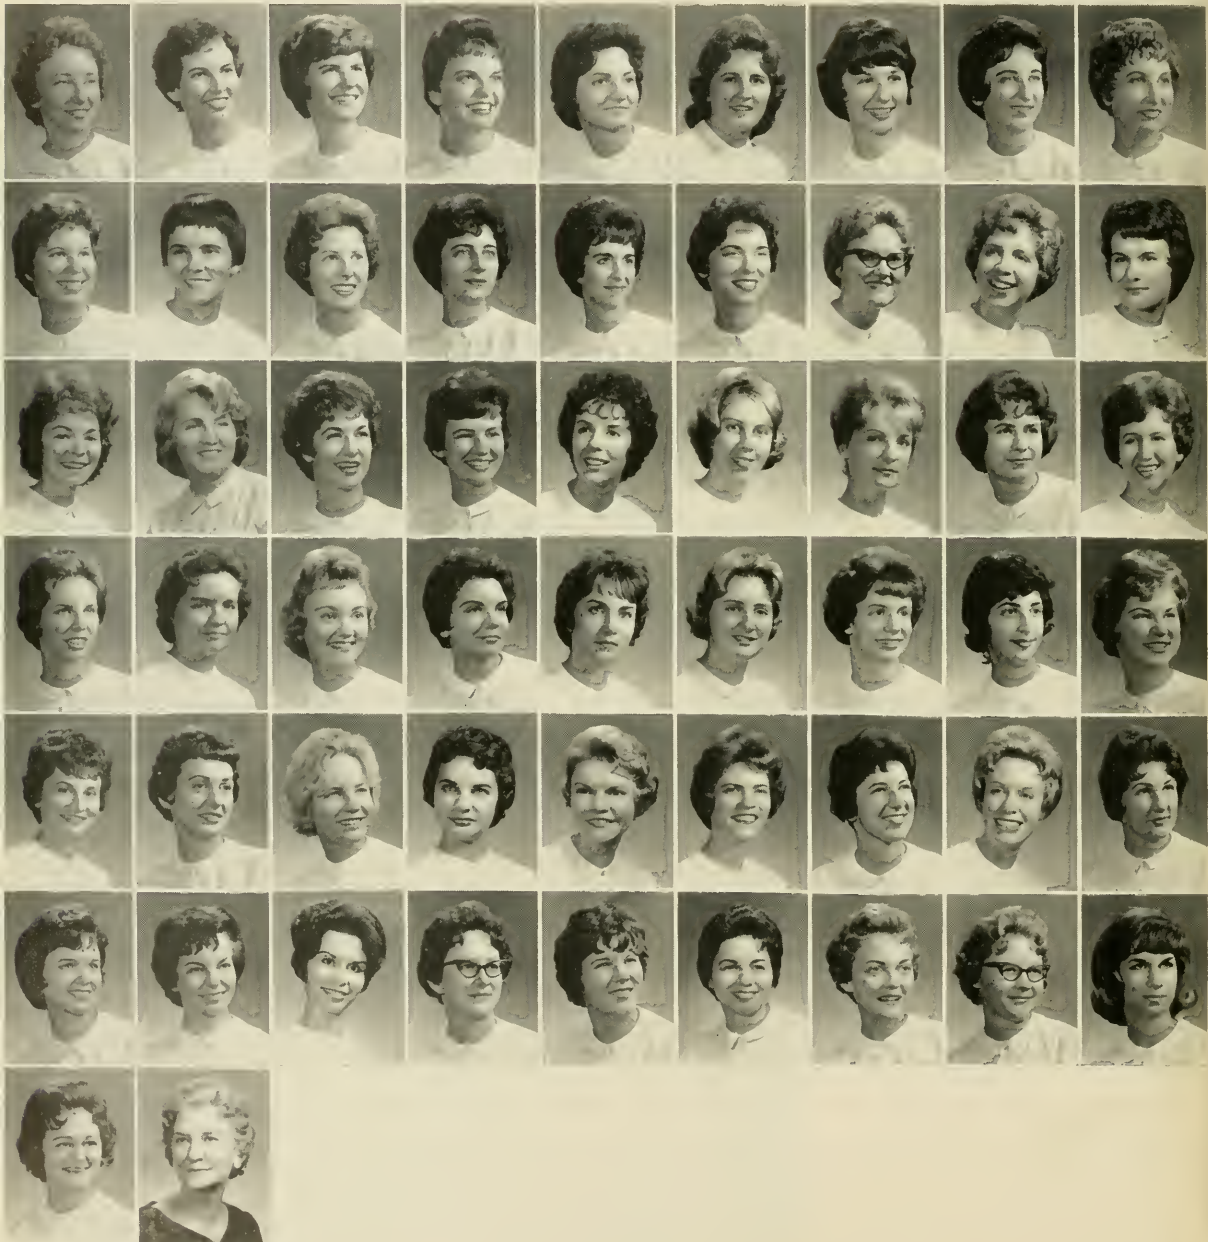

The chief officers of the sorority are: Pamela Duncan, President; Sandra Mowrey, First Vice-President; Gail Montgomery, Second Vice-President; Catherine Schleuss, Recording Secretary; Penelope Christie, Dianne Thomas and Katherine Boyd, Treasurers.

GAMMA PHI BETA

Gamma Phi Beta was founded in 1874 at Syracuse University; the Alpha Phi chapter was organized in 1938 and reactivated in 1959. Nationally, the sorority owns and operates two summer camps for underprivileged children. Alpha Phi chapter has two local philanthropy projects: working with the deaf and blind school in Romney and visiting the Sundale Rest Home. The 59 members worked hard again this year to win first place in the Homecoming float competition for the second consecutive year. Another big event of the year was the ground-breaking ceremony for their new chapter house on Spruce Street. An informal Christmas party, a Founder's Day program, monthly chapter dinners and a Mother's Day buffet comprise a varied social calendar, climaxed by the Pink Carnation Ball in May.

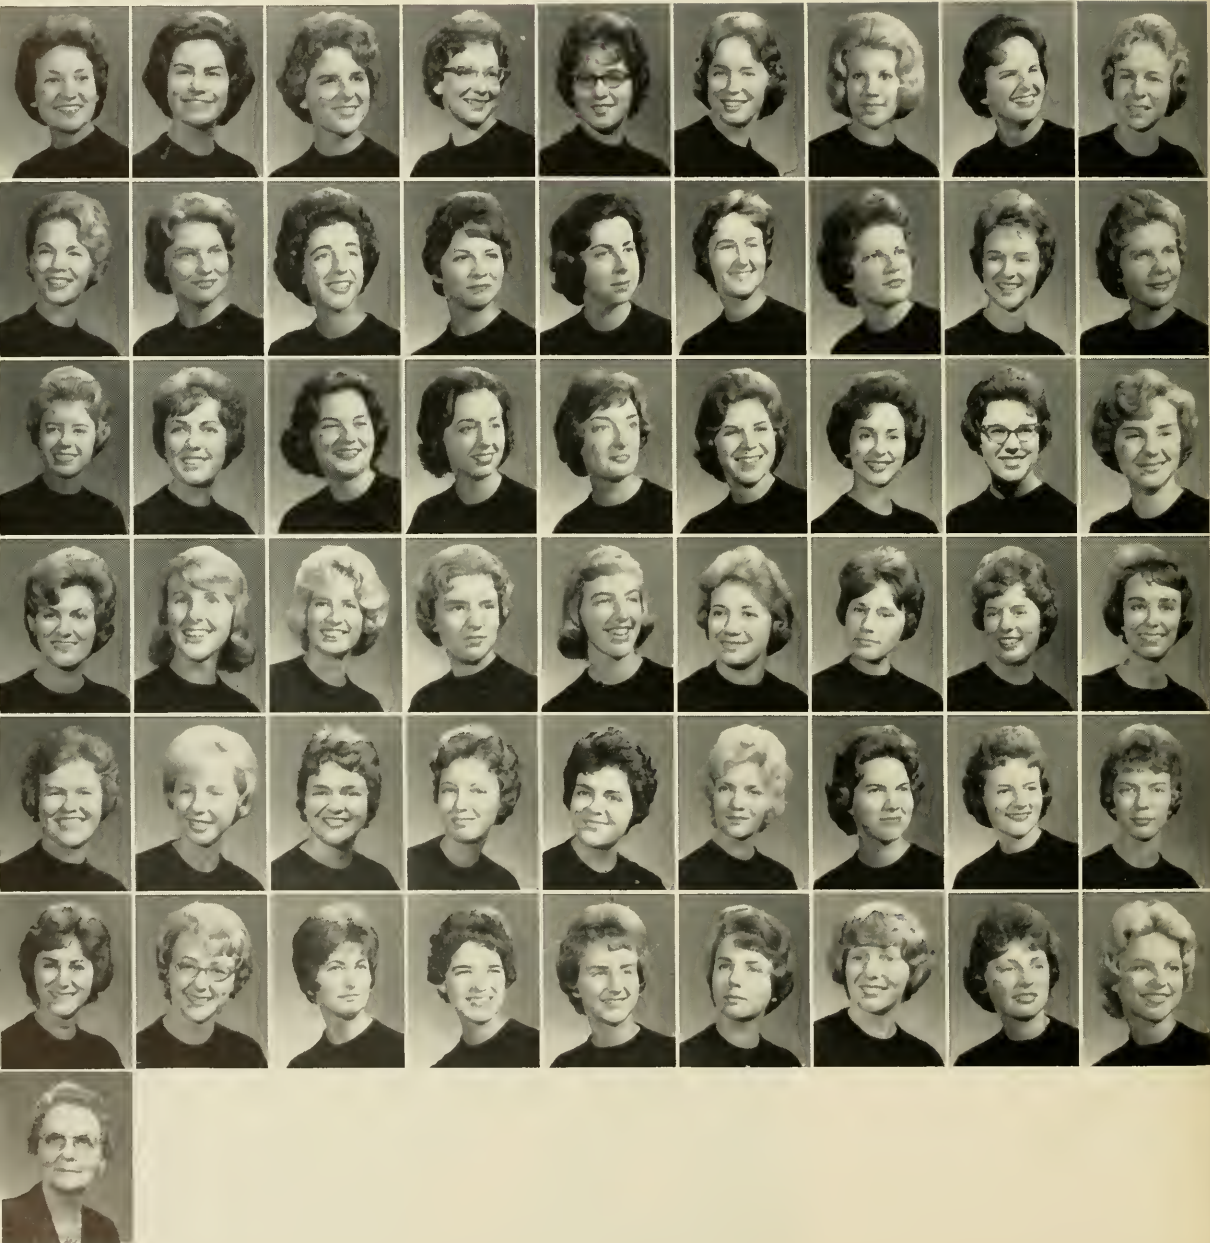

Officers of the sorority include: Barbara Dailey, President; Ramona Potter, First Vice-President; Barbara Kirby, Second Vice-President; Ann Fitzwater, Recording Secretary; Elizabeth Kuyendall, Corresponding Secretary; Penny Erskine, Treasurer.

KAPPA DELTA

Kappa Delta was founded in 1897 at Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia, and was established at West Virginia University in 1951. Nationally, Kappa Delta sponsors an award at the Crippled Children's Hospital in Richmond, Virginia. The local chapter makes Christmas toys for children in the University Hospital. "Victory Then, Victory Again" won first place in the Mountaineer Weekend house decorations. The telegraph office, with messengers holding a sign announcing "Statehood Proclaimed," followed the Centennial theme. The K D's social calendar includes a Christmas party, a scholarship dinner, an Initiation Banquet, and a senior breakfast. The highlight of their social affairs is the Mr. Esquire Spring Formal. Mr. Esquire is selected from pinmates and fiancées and is presented with a top hat, white gloves, and a year's subscription to Esquire.

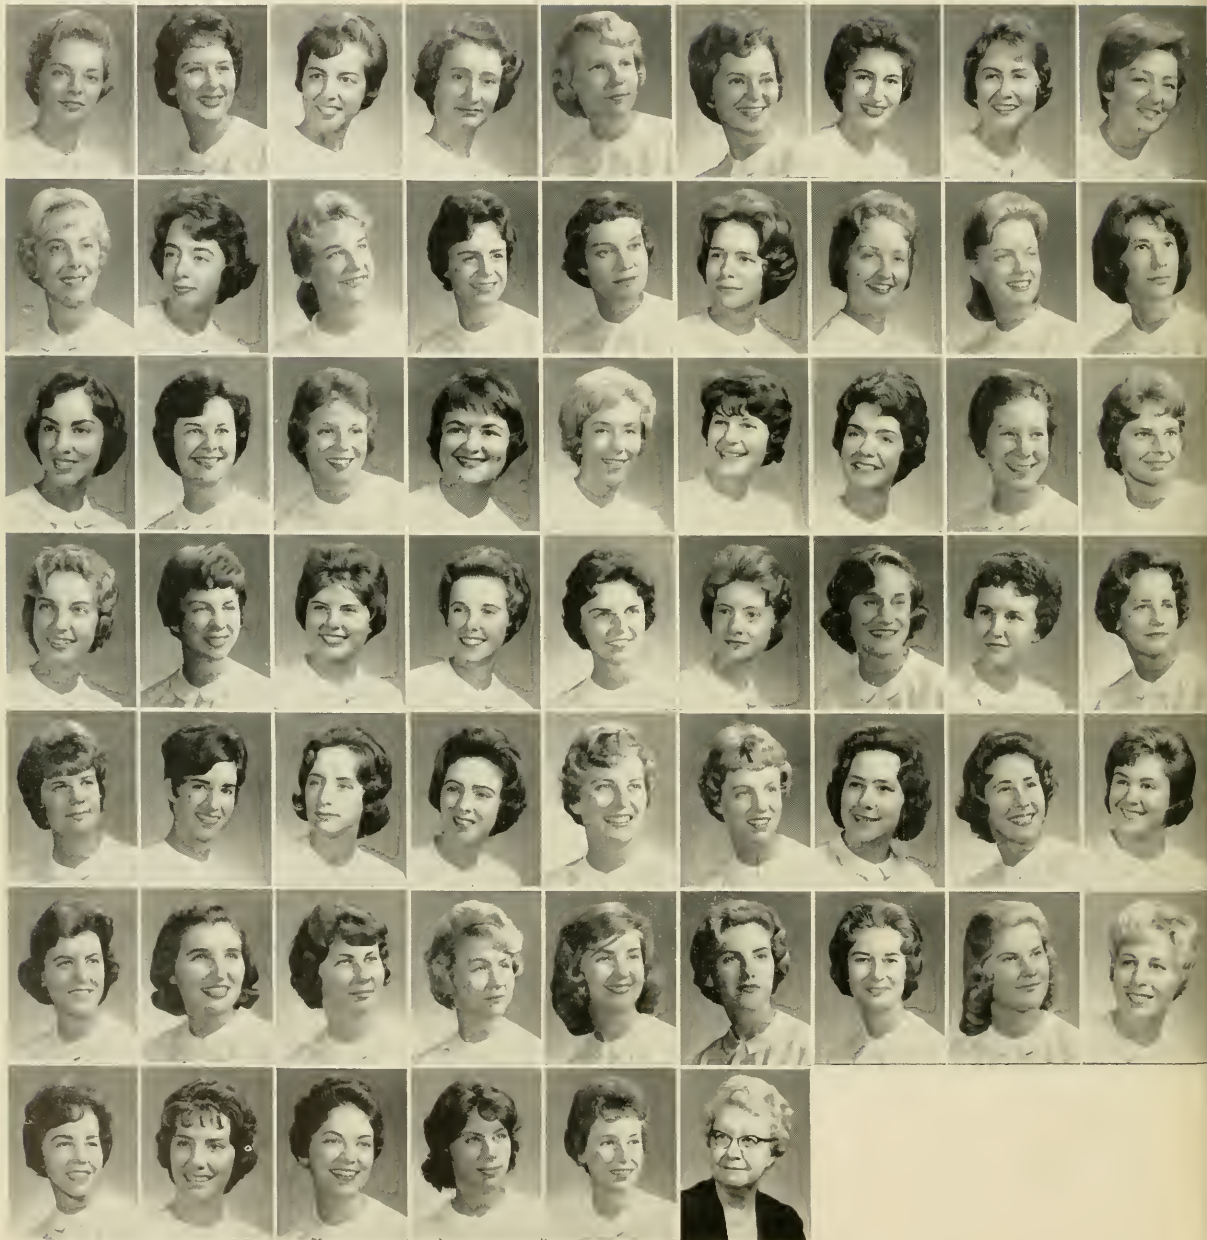

Chief officers of the sorority are: Barbara Eberly, President; Janet Eskew, Vice-President; Donna Mamula, Secretary; Patty Terrill, Treasurer.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

Kappa Kappa Gamma was founded at Monmouth College in 1870 and the golden key came to West Virginia University as Beta Upsilon chapter in 1906. The national organization supports the Rose McGill Fund which is used to aid sisters in need due to illness or misfortune. The local chapter collects clothes and toys to send to Korean Orphans. The Kappas, using the theme "Trilogy," danced their way to first place in the 1963 Sphinx Talent Show. They also won the second-place trophy in the 1962 Mother's Day Sing with their presentation of "Sister, Awake." Placing second in sorority scholarship highlighted the year. The Spring Formal in March is the high point of all their social affairs, which include a Homecoming buffet, a Christmas party, a Founder's Day dessert, and a Mother's Day breakfast.

PI BETA PHI

The West Virginia Alpha chapter of Pi Beta Phi has an attractive lighted arrow above its door—or at least some Delts think it is very attractive, for it sometimes disappears. But, even in its absence, the Pi Phi's can look at Arrowcraft articles which are made at a settlement school in Gatlinburg, Tennessee, sponsored by the national chapter. The local chapter has been displaying its arrow at West Virginia University since 1918. The arrow has been a national emblem since 1867 when Pi Beta Phi was founded at Monmouth College, Monmouth, Illinois. The Pi Phi's annually have a Christmas party, a Big Sister-Little Sister party, Cookie Shines, a chapter Loyalty Day, and a Founder's Day program. The Spring formal is a March event and the high point of the social season.

Sorority officers include: Sandi Smith, President; Patti Meyer, Vice-President; Mary Hill, Recording Secretary; Marlou Greenfield, Corresponding Secretary; Velma Conley, Treasurer.

What a lovely (?) way to spend an evening!

Seated: William Walter, President. Standing: Steve Conrad, Treasurer; Jim Ellis, Vice-President; Bill Nickles, Secretary.

Every Monday evening two members from each social fraternity on campus assemble in the Law Building. These men, representing their respective fraternities, constitute WVU's Inter-Fraternity Council. The main objective of this Council is to coordinate all the activities of the fraternity system and to find solutions for the problems which naturally arise in a large fraternal organization. Two major responsibilities of the Council are the enforcement of the rules for Rush Week early in the fall and the planning of Universal Initiation Week later in the year.

The Inter-Fraternity Council serves as a bond between the University administration and the fraternities. Its goal is to raise the standards of its member groups and to encourage scholarship and gentlemanly conduct among Greek men. Special projects include contributing to the Student Loan Fund, sponsoring the United Fund Drive, and carrying out a Work Project. In addition, the group annually coordinates Greek Week, which has grown into one of the major social events of the year. The Inter-Fraternity Council is the essential foundation required for a sound fraternal system.

ALPHA GAMMA RHO

"To make better men and through them a broader and better agriculture . . ."
This is the goal of Alpha Gamma Rho, which was founded in 1908, in Indianapolis, Indiana. Alpha Alpha chapter was established on this campus sixteen years later. The AGR's have the only "dry house" on campus, in that the members are not allowed to have alcohol in the house. Using the theme of "The Monster Mash," Alpha Gamma Rho placed first in the fraternity division of the Homecoming float competition. Their social activities include a Dogpatch party, a Christmas dance, and a Roman Toga party. The AGR Pink Rose Formal is held in April. The AGR's crystal ball sees a new chapter house in the near future.

The chapter officers are: Charles A. Sheets, President; George King, Vice-President; John Warren, Secretary; William Ridings, Treasurer; Bob Adamson, Alumni Secretary.

ALPHA PHI DELTA

Alpha Phi Delta, founded in 1914 at Syracuse University, came to West Virginia University in 1923 as Pi chapter. The 28 brothers created "John Henry" to win the third-place trophy in the Mountaineer Weekend house decorations competition. They also averaged their 1962 grades to win the second-place scholarship honors among fraternities. A varied calendar of social events for 658 Spruce Street includes Halloween, Christmas, Cassino, and Survival Parties, plus a Roman Banquet. May 4 was marked a red-letter day for the annual Carnation Ball.

Officers of the fraternity are: John A. Tiano, President; Dominick Casarcia, Vice-President; Ray Martinelli, Secretary; William Barone, Treasurer; Enzo Avoli, Historian.

Beta Theta Pi, the oldest national fraternity represented on our campus, was founded August 8, 1839, at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio. It came to West Virginia University as Beta Psi chapter in 1900. Their house on Belmar Avenue is the home of the 1961-62 fraternity All-Year Athletic Cup. The Betas annually contribute to several philanthropic funds. The Prohibition, Mexican, and Christmas parties are only a few of the Betas' social events. They also have several combo and Bermuda parties. In the spring, dancing on the parking lot climaxes the informal social season. The Miami Triad Weekend in May provides for picnics as well as formal affairs.

Officers of the fraternity are: Larry V. Starcher, President; Richard E. LaLance, Vice-President; Morris E. Mowery, Jr., Recording Secretary; James W. H. Sell, Corresponding Secretary; John R. Brennan, Jr., Treasurer.

DELTA TAU DELTA

Gamma Delta chapter of Delta Tau Delta was organized at West Virginia University in 1900, 42 years after the national founding at Bethany College. "Mandy Lu" became the Delts' best-loved tune for it attracted the second-place trophy in the 1962 Mother's Day Sing as well as the Trinity Trophy. The Trinity Sing, held each year in Pittsburgh, brings musical competition with four other Delt chapters. Gamma Delta has carried the clock-trophy home for 26 out of the last 28 years. The Delts also created a steamboat to win second place in the Homecoming parade with the theme, "Up a Lazy River." Annual Delt social events include a Sewer party, a Shipwreck party, a Western party, and a Christmas celebration. Their Spring Formal concludes the social calendar in May.

The chapter officers are: Ollie Bates, President; Terry Meredith, Vice-President; Dave Duncan, Recording Secretary; Dick Calver, Corresponding Secretary; John White, Treasurer.

KAPPA ALPHA

Kappa Alpha was founded at Washington and Lee University in 1865 and Alpha Rho chapter brought the Confederate flag to West Virginia University in 1897. The K A's won the third-place trophy in the 1962 Mother's Day Sing with their presentation of "Eddy Stone Light." They also took second-place honors in the Mountaineer Weekend house decorations competition, using "Stonewall Jackson Helps the Mounties" as the theme. Several annual parties are held by the K A's, including the Supressed Desires, Roaring Twenties, French Apache, Barn, and Pagan parties. The Black and White Formal is a January event, Old South Weekend in the spring is the highlight of all affairs. The K.A.'s "secede from the union" for their three days of picnics, parties, and the Old South Ball.

The Kappa Alpha leaders are: Terry L. Thistlethwaite, President; Robert E. Taylor, Vice-President; Edward R. DeVoge, Secretary; William B. Anderson, Treasurer.

Kappa Sigma was organized in 1400 at the University of Bologna in Italy. Gamma Phi chapter was chartered at West Virginia University in May, 1918, after the Kappa Sigma national founding at the University of Virginia in 1869. The "Can-Can" dancers descended from their "castle on the hill" to win the first-place trophy in the men's division of the 1962 Sphinx Talent Show. The Suppressed Desire, Bar and Grill, Christmas, Halloween, and Prehistoric parties give the 60 brothers good opportunities for dancing and bridgeplaying with their favorite dates. In April, informal "partying" is overcome by the Star and Crescent Formal, a happy ending for the social season.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

Founded nationally at Boston University in 1909, Lambda Chi Alpha was chartered at West Virginia University as Iota-Lambda Zeta chapter in 1953. The local chapter's philanthropy project this year was doing odd jobs at the Sundale Rest Home. The Lambda Chi's took home the second-place trophy in the 1962 Sphinx Talent Show with "Nickelodeon Thriller." Mountaineer Weekend brought the Lambda Chi's first place in the beard-growing contest, having the highest percentage of members with beards. The social calendar at 17 Grant Avenue includes a Christmas party, a Twist party, and a Playboy party. The Crescent Formal honors the sweetheart of the fraternity.

PHI DELTA THETA

A jolly crew of Phi's are we, Yo ho, yo ho, yo ho. We do not sail upon the sea . . .
Indeed the Phi Delta Thetas do not sail upon the sea but "navigate upon the hills."
Their Anchor Room, a garage converted into a party room, is a favorite spot for fraternity singing. In the past year, it was used for the Beatnik Party, Caveman Party, Gambling Party, and Playboy Party. Hours of hard work won for Phi Delta Theta first place in the Muntaineer Weekend house-decorations competition. As in years past, they, along with two other fraternities, held The Miami Triad Weekend. West Virginia Alpha of Phi Delta Theta was established in 1928. The national fraternity was founded on December 26, 1848, at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio.

Officers of the fraternity are: Frederick L. Dudding, President; Sidney F. Absher,
Vice-President; Stephen E. Rawe, Secretary; Bernard C. Corker, Treasurer; Warren

PHI KAPPA PSI

Phi Kappa Psi was founded at Canonsburg, Pennsylvania, in 1852. West Virginia Alpha chapter was organized in 1890 and presently has ninety-two members. The house corporation, supported by all the members, offers a scholarship to a needy student. Nationally, the fraternity sponsors an endowment fund to aid members in continuing their college education. The "girls" stormed Reynolds Hall and took with them the first-place trophy as they won the Sphinx Talent Show with their distinctive version of "Gypsy." In the fall the Phi Psi's have their annual Dogpatch party. They also have a Suppressed Desire party and several combo parties. The Spring Formal in May climaxes the year's social events.

Phi Kappa Psi leaders are: Richard D. Hash, President; Charles B. Watkins, Vice-President; Hampton W. Hoge, Recording Secretary; Harry J. Anderson, Corresponding Secretary; James R. Bell, Treasurer.

PHI KAPPA SIGMA

Alpha Gamma chapter of Phi Kappa Sigma came to West Virginia University in 1896 after its national founding on August 16, 1850. The national chapter offers scholarship-improvement awards, and the local chapter offers a scholarship to the active and to the pledge with the highest average. The Phi Kaps went "musical" this year for the Homecoming parade with a band flanked by a scoreboard which brought them third-place honors. Their theme parties included a Roaring Twenties party, a Halloween Skull party, a Christmas party, and a Prohibition party. The Black and Gold Formal was a May event. The scene for all the Phi Kap parties was the newly remodeled house on 571 Spruce Street.

Fraternity officers are: John W. Criss, President; Robert R. Smith, III, Vice-President; Thomas DeBerry, Secretary; John Bachman, Treasurer; William B. Dwinell, III, Scholarship Chairman.

PHI SIGMA DELTA

After its founding in 1909 at Columbia University, Phi Sigma Delta came to West Virginia University in 1927 as Upsilon chapter. The thirty-seven Phi Sigma Deltas took the first-place honors in the intramurals 'B' league for 1962. The really unique aspect of the social calendar at 665 Spruce Street is the Thanksgiving Affair. All the members remain on campus over the vacation to attend parties and dinners and have a brotherly good time. Other social events include the Funeral party and the May Affair.

The chapter officers are: Jerry Rosenthal, President; Lenny Landon, Vice-President; Ed Kaplan, Secretary; Phil Rosenthal, Treasurer.

Phi Sigma Kappa was founded March 15, 1873, at the University of Massachusetts. Delta chapter was organized in March, 1891, at West Virginia University and now has ninety members. The Phi Sigs won the second-place All-Year Cup in the intramural competition. They are especially proud of Don Bond, who was National Phi Sigma Kappa President, and Don Knotts, who was Phi Sig of the Year. Annually the Phi Sigs have a Viking party, the well-known Roaring Twenties party, and several combo parties. They hold their Moonlight Formal each May.

Officers of the fraternity include: Fred Nerz, President; James Stuck, Vice-President; William O'Neil, Secretary; Harold O. Casali, Treasurer.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Pi Kappa Alpha, founded at the University of Virginia in 1868, has become the national fraternity with the fire trucks. The West Virginia University Alpha-Theta chapter, organized in 1904, is now the owner of a 1930 American-La France fire engine. The engine's usefulness is quite varied—from picking up rushees and dates to stirring up enthusiasm at football games. 36 Campus Drive not only housed a fire truck but also accommodated the seventy-seven members and their dates for a West Side party, a Roman Forum party, and a Showboat party. The Pi K A Dream Girl was announced in April at the Dream Girl Formal.

Pi Kappa Alpha leaders are: Peter Neri, President; William A. Jones, Vice-President; Robert Bobst, Secretary; Henry Wagner, Treasurer.

SIGMA CHI

Nationally, Sigma Chi was forty years old when Mu Mu chapter was founded at West Virginia University on December 11, 1895. The biggest project for the Sigma Chi's this year was the new chapter house at the top of High Street which was opened second semester to house forty-four men. A most important addition to the new house is the stereo which the members won in the 1962 College Brand Round-Up Contest. They can enjoy it at their annual Gangster and Sadie Hawkins Day parties. "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" is introduced at a December party. The Sigma Chi's also participate in the annual Miami Triad Weekend.

Sigma Nu was founded at Virginia Military Institute, Lexington, Virginia, in 1869. It came to West Virginia University as Gamma Pi Chapter in 1904. The Sigma Nus captured the first-place honors in the 1962 Mother's Day Sing with "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." Much of the local chapter's efforts go toward the annual intramural competition. Their social calendar includes a Roaring Twenties Party, a Hawaiian Party, and a Big Brother-Little Brother Dance. They also Christmas-carol with their sister sorority, Alpha Xi Delta. A Christmas Formal in December and a Spring Formal in April are the high points of the entire year. They also enjoy "borrowing" the D G anchor.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

After the national founding at Richmond College in 1901, Sigma Phi Epsilon organized the West Virginia Beta Chapter at West Virginia University. Nationally, the fraternity offers scholarships to needy and worthy members. It also supports a camp in Pennsylvania for underprivileged children. Sigma Phi Epsilon has ranked first in scholarship among the fraternities for the past two semesters. The biggest party for 1962-63 was the Christmas party. The Golden Sweetheart Ball, an annual affair, was an April event. The fraternity began construction of their new house on Willey Street this spring. It will provide plenty of room for studying and for parties in the years to come.

THETA CHI

Alpha Kappa of Theta Chi came to West Virginia University as a chapter of the national fraternity founded in 1856 at Norwich, Vermont. The Theta Chi's won an honorable mention in the 1962 Mountaineer Weekend house-decorations competition. The Theta Chi Regional Corral was held in Morgantown in the spring. The social events at 661 Spruce Street include the Christmas party, the Halloween party, and the Valentine party. The twenty-seven brothers conclude their social season in April with their Dream Girl Formal.

Theta Chi leaders are: John Brancizio, President; Gary McCullough, Vice-President; Lawrence Artler, Secretary; Clarence Mortimer, Treasurer.

SPORTS

Athletics dramatizes competition and trains young men for a part in a competitive force—the free-enterprise system. It teaches to participants, to other students and to the public the necessity for total education by admitting that in addition to a brain to be trained, a student has a physical body and emotions which must go along with intellectual development.

In athletics a man learns to think under fire, to make decisions under pressure, to work harmoniously with others; he does for the team what he wouldn't do for himself alone.

By fostering athletics, the university becomes the most effective exhibitor of sportsmanship by keeping it before the people, and in particular, providing a fine example for high school and pre-college youth.

Sports in college is a part of the life of self-improvement for the individual. One of its duties is to enhance the integrity of the individual, which is the core of American greatness.

There are higher degrees of happiness in some things other than sport, but I think happiness is found most readily in sport, and more predictable—by plan—than in almost anything one does. Effort in sport is a matter of character rather than reward. A learned man once said: "A person's greatest moment of happiness is to be tested beyond what he thought might be his breaking point—and not fail."

Sport is the moral equivalent of war, having all the virtues and none of the vices of war. It is the physical epitome of life at its best, as philosophy and science are its intellectual epitome.

Competitive athletics is the hair on the university's chest. It gives a masculine accent. It is the one thing left that co-eds can't get into and do better than the men.

THE MOUNTAINEER

Dressed in buckskin, a coonskin cap, moccasins and carrying a double-barreled rifle—this is the Mountaineer, symbol of West Virginia University. He depicts, and is a constant reminder of, the ruggedness and courage of our West Virginia forefathers.

The Mountaineer leads the cheerleaders and varsity football squad onto the field and guides the cage team onto the basketball court. Since "his" founding in 1931 by Mountaineer, the Mountaineer has become known not only throughout the Mountain State, but to the people across the nation. Whether shooting the Pitt Panther, chasing the Penn State Nittany Lion, or scalping the William and Mary Indian, the Mountaineer adds spark to University sporting events both at home and away.

Selected by Mountain each spring, the Mountaineer must exemplify the all-round student—outstanding in activities, scholarship and school spirit. This year's Mountaineer was Bill Thompson.

"Fight, fight, fight, Mountaineers" . . . "Let's go, Mountaineers" . . . "Beat the hellouta Pitt" ring from the stadium in the fall and reach each high corner of the field house during basketball season. Eight energetic coeds, West Virginia University's Varsity Cheerleaders, were on hand this year to lead the fans in cheers and chants at each thuse, at every home football and basketball game and at several held in "enemy territory."

Tryouts are held each spring and the varsity squad is selected by faculty members. The students owe much to the gold-and-blue-clad cheerleaders who truly exemplify the "Mountaineer Spirit" and try to instill that spirit into the rest of the student body.

The West Virginia University football team had tremendous prospects for 1962. Only three of the starting eleven and eight of the 29 lettermen were gone from the 1961 team that upset Army and Pitt. The 1962 squad was largely a senior team, full of experience and confident of climbing farther up the football ladder. The pre-season ratings by various football magazines predicted a 7-3 record for the Mountaineers and Street and Smith's even ranked them twelfth in the nation. West Virginia sportswriters, predicting a 6-4 season, were not quite as optimistic.

The first game against Vanderbilt was said by many to be the key to the season. Some were surprised as the Mountaineers soundly defeated the Commodores 26-0, for one of the all-time great opening games. They then went on to defeat Virginia Tech 14-0, Boston University 7-0, archrival Pitt 15-8, and Homecoming foe George Washington 27-25. Then the bubble broke in Portland, Oregon as the Liberty

Bowl champions, Oregon State, clobbered the Gold and Blue 51-22. WVU next defeated William and Mary 28-13, but then lost another to Pen State 34-6. The Mountaineers then came out of their mid-season doldrums to trounce The Citadel 49-0. In the final game they upset favored Syracuse 17-6.

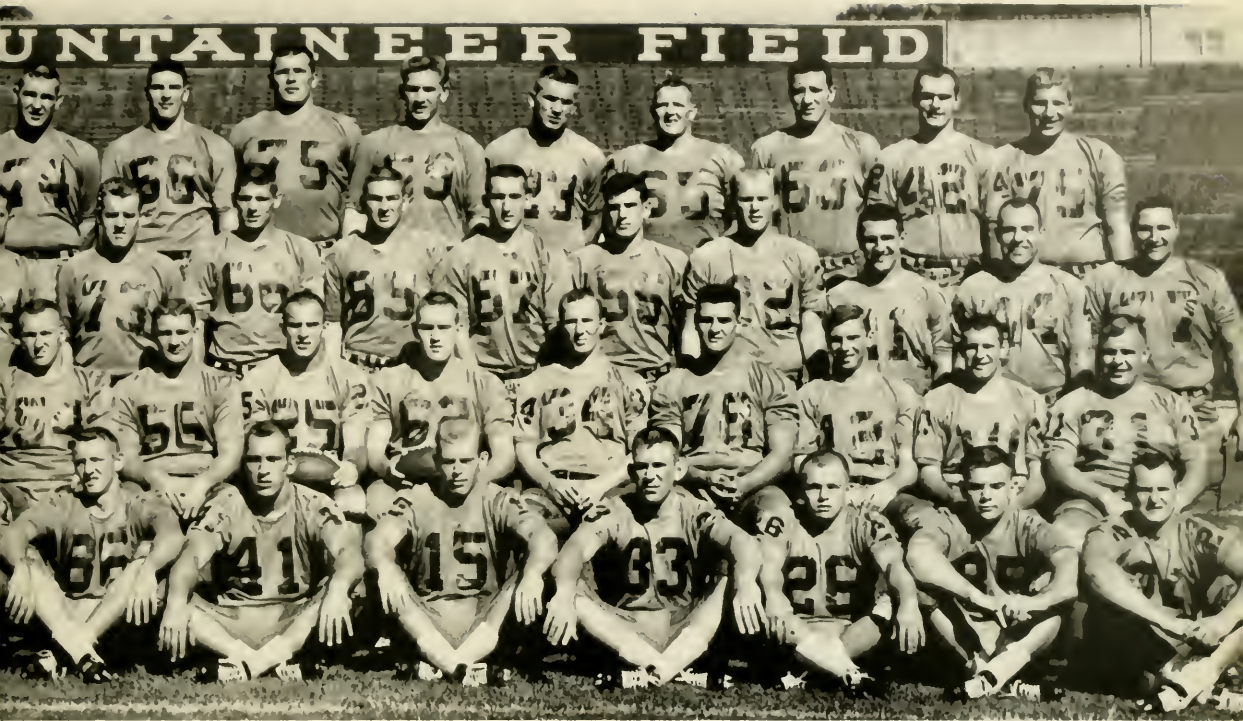

The 1962 edition of the Mountaineers restored to West Virginia University the football prestige once held in the mid-50's. The season record (8-2) was not only the best in seven years but also saw many varsity records broken. Next season promises to be an interesting one with much potential still on the squad, a top freshman team, with Navy, Pitt, and Oregon appearing in Morgantown.

The opening encounter was with the Vanderbilt Commodores at home and, remembering the brutal punishment suffered a year before, the Mountaineers were bent on revenge. The second time the Gold and Blue got the ball they marched 82 yards, with Jerry Yost scoring on a quarterback sneak. The next scoring drive covered 87 yards as Yost passed to Gene Heeter for the tally. A pass interception by Pete Goimarac led the way to another score that featured a 42-yard rollout scamper by Yost. Tom Woodeshick scored this touchdown. A Yost-to-Jim Moss pass accounted for the last TD in the 26-0 shutout. The big play in the final drive was a 27-yard run by substitute fullback Ron Colaw.

Richmond was the scene of West Virginia's second game of the season as they took on their greatest rival in the Southern Conference, Virginia Tech. This Tobacco Bowl game was as tough as anticipated. The Gold and Blue put together two first-half touchdowns and a strong defense to defeat the Gobblers, 14-0. In the opening quarter, the Mountaineers easily drove 88 yards in 12 plays, highlighted by a 56-yard run by Jerry Yost. With three seconds left in the first half, Yost passed to end Milt Clegg for the other score. Glenn Bennett kicked both extra points. A serious loss was suffered as co-captain Jim Moss injured his knee, putting him out of action for most of the season.

Boston University providing the opposition. The game's only touchdown occurred in the first quarter as reserve fullback Steve Berzansky scored from the one-yard line. This TD was set up by a 51-yard punt return by Jim Procopio. Glenn Bennett added the extra point and the score was then the same as the final, 7-0. The remainder of the game was a defensive battle as each team recovered two of the opposition's fumbles, the Mountaineers intercepted three passes and the Terriers two. Linebacker Pete Goimarac again turned in the top defensive performance as he recovered two fumbles and intercepted a pass.

Entire Mountaineer forward wall converges on Pitt's Martha

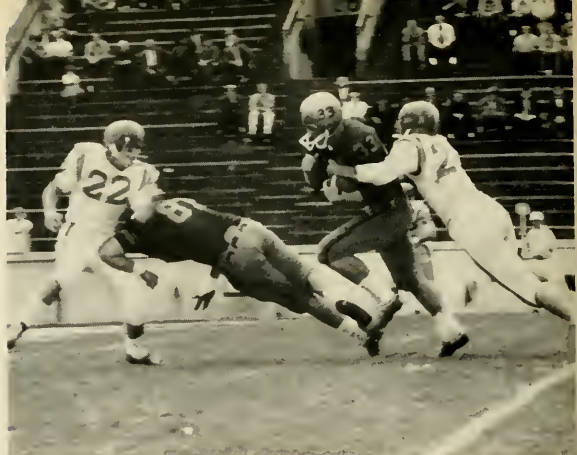

It is often said that the Mountaineers have a successful season if they beat Pitt and that is just what happened by a 15-8 score. In the second period Steve Berzansky scored for the Mounties on a 29-yard run. In the third period, the Gold and Blue defense was finally scored upon as Pitt's Paul Martha ran 34 yards for a score. A two-point conversion made the score 8-7 in favor of Pitt. This set the stage for a come-from-behind finish as the Mountaineers drove practically the length of the field, highlighted by a 49-yard run from scrimmage by Tom Woodeshick. Tom Yeater scored from the five and a Yost-to-Heeter pass accounted for the final two points. The Mountaineer line played its best game of the year, continually throwing Pitt quarterback Jim Traficant for tremendous losses and containing Paul Martha every time but once.

Homecoming was the next week with George Washington providing the opposition. In the first half WVU completely outplayed the Colonials and the halftime score was 21-0. The Mountaineers drove 80 yards in ten plays for the first score as a Yost-to-Glenn Holton pass accounted for the TD. Sophomore safetyman Bill Fleming set up the next two tallies on long returns of intercepted passes with Holton and Berszansky scoring. Glenn Bennett booted the three extra points which later were to be the margin of victory. What appeared to be a first-half slaughter turned into a complete reversal during the second half as the Colonials surged to four touchdowns. Before the Mounties could regain their composure, the the Colonials were ahead, 25-21. This became the second come-from-behind victory in as many weeks as Yost passed to Tom Woodshick for a 56-yard gain on the GW 18-yard line. After several plays, Glenn Holton scored from the five. The defense held until the final gun for a 27-25 win.

The proud Mountaineers took their perfect record to Portland, Oregon, with high expectations of another triumph, but the passing combination of Heisman Trophy winner Terry Baker and All-American end Vern Burke was just too much for a weakened WVU pass defense. Oregon State took the lead early and never gave up. It was a shattering 51-22 defeat for all WVU fans. Gene Heeter scored two touchdowns for the Gold and Blue and Glenn Holton scored one. play covered 92 yards on a Yost-to-Heeter pass and set a new WVU record in this category.

Returning home from the demoralizing trip to Oregon, the Mountaineer defense sagged at times during the game with William and Mary, but the Gold and Blue still won by a 28-13 score. Jerry Yost had another fine day as he threw three touchdown passes and set up another score. Frequent fumbles and pass interceptions marred the play in the first half. The scoring opened in the first quarter on a pass from Yost to Herock. Then, after two Indian scores, the Mountaineers started a drive that was capped by Glenn Holton charging across from the two. With eight seconds left in the half, Yost threw a 43-yard pass to end Ray Bazzoli who took it from there. An insurance touchdown was scored on a Yost-to-Heeter pass in the fourth quarter.

West Virginia then met Penn State, the number-one team in the East and Gator Bowl contender, at University Park. A stout Mountaineer defense held the Nittany Lions to only one touchdown in the first half but staved off four other serious threats. In the second half, a fierce Penn State line broke the defense and turned what had been a close game into a rout. Five Penn State players were voted on the WVU all-opponent team. Only twice did the Mountaineers threaten and the lone score came on a 54-yard pass play with Jerry Yost tossing to halfback Tom Woodeshick. The final score was 34-6.

Jerry Yost broke the old West Virginia total-offense record by picking up 211 yards passing and running as the Mountaineers exploded for 37 points in eight-and-a-half minutes of the second half and overpowered the defending champions of the Southern Conference, The Citadel, by a 49-0 score. The home finale was predominately a defensive battle for three quarters; then the Bulldog defense fell completely apart. Coach Corum emptied his bench as seven different Mountaineer players scored touchdowns and the Gold and Blue had their greatest day offensively, a grand total of 517 yards running and passing. The scoring came on a 16-yard run by Tom Woodeshick, a one-yard plunge by Glenn Holton, a five-yard run by Jim Moss, a two-yard plunge by Ron Colaw, an 80-yard run by Larry Tracewell, an eight-yard romp by Jim Procopio, and a 15-yard run by Dick Madison. By defeating the Citadel, the Mountaineers were undefeated at home for 1962.

at the expense of the Orangemen by a 17-6 score. The hometown fans were stunned as the fine West Virginia defense combined with a never-say-die offense to baffle completely the home team. Jerry Yost brilliantly led the Mounties as he passed to Gene Heeter for one WVU touchdown and scored the other himself on a quarterback sneak. Tom Woodeshick had another fine day as he was chosen the game's most valuable player. The WVU line continually opened holes in a heavier, but less inspired, Syracuse line and demonstrated their early-season defensive skills. This was Syracuse's first loss to the Mountaineers since 1957.

BASKETBALL

Pre-season forecasts of the 1962-63 Mountaineer basketball team placed it as high as fourth in national ranking and some hopeful fans even predicted a national championship. This early optimism accounts for the severe criticism of a team which racked up the following credits: won 23 games while losing eight; was high among the leading scorers in the country with 82.4 points average per game; won twenty or more games for the eighth consecutive year; finished in the top twenty teams in the nation for the eighth straight year; and won the Southern Conference championship for the eighth time in nine years. George King's three-year coaching percentage is .795 (70 victories, 18 defeats), second among all college coaches in their third year.

The season started fast as the Mountaineers met four of the nation's top ten teams in the first nine games. They did not do too well as they lost three of the four. The teams were Ohio State, Oregon State, Kentucky, and Illinois. At this point the record was 6-3, capturing second place in the Kentucky Invitational and Holiday Festival tournaments. This was followed by a six-game winning streak before the Mounties were crushed by rival Duke in a 40-point loss. This was the beginning of the slump in the season as the Gold and Blue dropped four of seven games. Other losses were to Southern Conference foes, Furman, William and Mary, and archrival Pitt. After this period, the team did not lose another game until the defeat at the hands of St. Joseph's, eight games later in the NCAA Tournament.

The team had its stars—two-time All-American Rod Thorn, the third-highest all-time WVU leading scorer, and Jim McCormick, the seventh-highest scorer in the school's history. Thorn also led in assists but Tom Lowry took the rebound honors. In Thorn and McCormick, WVU is losing, by graduation, the best backcourt scoring combination in its many years of basketball and they will be difficult to replace.

Maphis out-maneuvers Citadel center to control loose ball

Citadel guard attempts hookshot as McCormick tries to block it in the opening game.

Wolfe tries to pass off but Richmond center has other ideas

Thorn and Maphis fight hard for an important rebound in one of two hard-earned victories over Davidson.

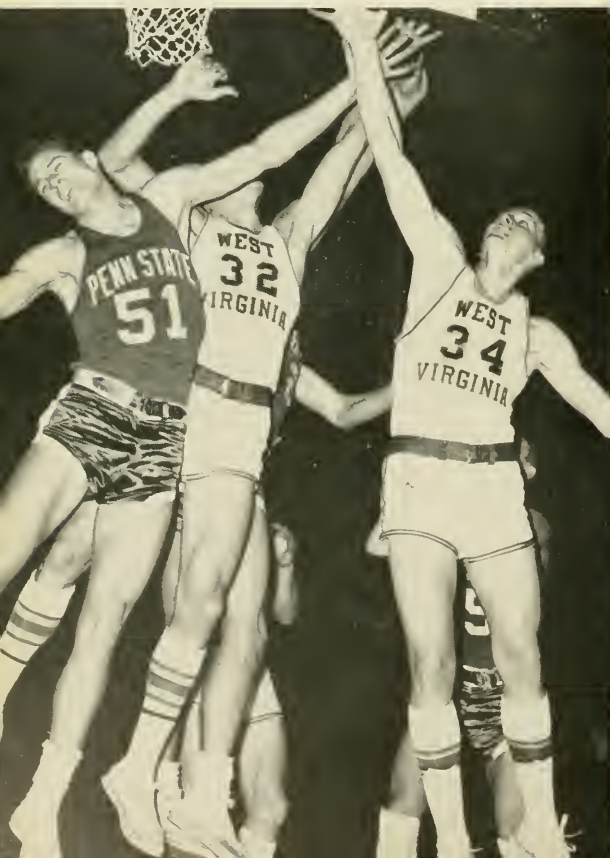

Pitt's Generalovich pulls down a rebound with Wolfe close by guarding him.

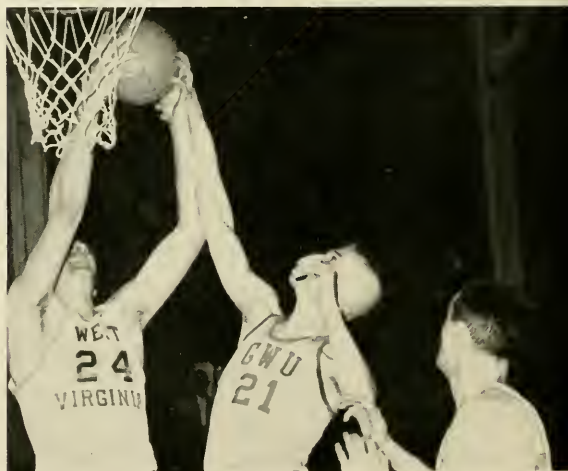

Lentz and Wolfe battle a Penn State player under the boards in the 89-73 victory over the Lions.

Hard-fighting McCormick pulls down one of his more than 100 rebounds during the season.

Shuck grabs rebound in 104-86 rout of George Washington

Catlett and Lowry attempt to block a Virginia Tech shot in the hard-fought 86-83 WVU victory.

Lowry dunks the ball to cap a fast break that caught the opposition completely by surprise.

Shuck attempts to control ball in the last-minute (69-68) loss to Pitt

Lowry attempts a long jump shot as Lentz runs in to get possible rebound (NCAA Tournament).

Fierce action results from a loose ball in the final game of the year (NCAA Tournament).

Thorn clears the boards preparing to pass off and start the famous WVU fast break.

McCormick puts in two of his 23 points in the 97-88 loss to St. Joseph's (NCAA Tournament).

With the greatest number of "blue chip" players in a decade, the gridiron future of WVU appears to be a bright one. With the loss of 19 seniors from the 1962 varsity squad, the Frosh team will be all-important in Coach Corum's plans for next season. Leading rushers Dick Leftridge, Larry Duck, and Rodger Blackwell should bolster the varsity backfield. Outstanding are guards Roger Alford and Steve Kush, tackle Jim Fagan, and center Gary Barnette. Kicking should no longer be a worry, for Chuck Kinder can punt, place-kick, and kick off with the best.

The "little Mountaineers" continued their dominance over opponents as they compiled a 10-3 record. Bill Ryczaj, leading the team with a 26.6-points-per-game average, established the second-highest scoring average ever amassed by a freshman. John Cavacini, the second-leading scorer, led the team in assists. The other three starters, John Leshar, Gary Shaffer, and Perry Polinsky, also averaged in double figures. George King has some fine talent with which to build great Mountaineer teams in the future.

CROSS COUNTRY

The 1962 Cross Country season was the best in many a year as the Mountaineer harriers won the Southern Conference title, compiled a 5-3 record, and beat Pitt twice. Leading the team with a low total of 18 was Junior Roger Meador. Sophomore Don Sweeney finished fifth in the Southern Conference. Senior Charles Rea, Dough Kersey, and Raynor Baldwin were in the top 15 in the conference meet. Next year looks very promising for the harriers as the two top scorers, Meador and Sweeney, will return. Also returning will be Ed Fiertz and Joe Kubin.

What was supposedly a rebuilding year for the Rifle Team ended as one of the best years ever, if not the best. The team finished the regular season with an undefeated (15-0) record, captured the Greater Pittsburgh League title for the third straight year, won the National Rifle Association Sectional contest for the fourth straight year, and placed second in the Southern Conference. High scorers were Jim Hornor, Bob Gosnell, Hugh Shephard, and Bill Knestrick.

GYMNASTICS

Coach Bonsall, with only one letterman returning from last season, turned to his sophomores and came up with the best season he has had since he came here a decade ago. They compiled an impressive 8-1 record, their only loss being to Pitt. The high scorers were sophomore Jerry Spencer, described by some as "Olympic calibre," with 188½ points, junior Carl Townsend with 91 points, and Jim Roberts, another sophomore, with 86½ points.

Next season should be a good one, for not a single member of the 1962-63 team will be gone.

Coach Steve Harrick, in his twenty-fifth year as wrestling coach, led his team to an all-time record of 10-3 and to a second place in the Southern Conference. Three Mountaineers were Southern Conference champions in their classes. They were Sam Church at 147 pounds, Tim Rihn at 167 pounds, and Roy Sisler in the 177-pound class. Other standouts were sophomore Jim Joio, junior Dave Cain, and senior George Niedeffer.

GOLF

The 1962 Mountaineer golfers ranked as the best in a decade as they compiled a record of 9 wins, 2 losses, and 1 tie. Under new coach Charles Hockenberry, the team tied for second for its best showing ever in the Southern Conference Tournament and defeated Pen State, Ohio University, George Washington, and Pitt, among others. Captain Sid Bennett, newcomer Kirk Nolte, and a depth in all positions provided the material for a surprising season of upsets.

Coach Ruel E. Foster's eleventh season as WVU tennis coach was a successful one as his charges compiled a 7-5 record and tied for sixth place in the tough Southern Conference. This marked the best record since 1952. The best individual record (8-4) was compiled by Sophomore Byron Kallam. He was followed by Ned "Buzzy" Ragland (7-5), captain Bill Schaeffer (6-6), and Boyd Warner (7-5). The coming season looks to be a fine one as five lettermen return from the '62 squad.

BASEBALL

A Southern Conference championship, two All-Americans, a solid infield, and a husky righthander tell the story of the 1962 Mountaineer baseball season. The outstanding right-hander, Tom Shafer, posted the best earned-run average in WVU history, batted .345, led the team with four home runs, won nine decisions, and lost only two. Five major-league clubs offered him contracts. Fast and hard-hitting, the infield backed up Shafer and Dave Wilson, winner of three games in the NCAA tournament. First baseman Rod Thorn led the team in runs batted in. All-American Joe Hatalla at second base paced the squad in runs, hits, doubles, and average with a .379 mark. Tom Stepp made All-Southern Conference at shortstop. Another All-American, third baseman Ed Tekavec, completed this fine fielding quartet.

Successfully defending their Southern Conference championship, the Mountaineers placed four players on the All-Conference team—Shafer, Hatalla, Stepp, and Jim Procopio, catcher-centerfielder who led the team in triples and stolen bases. After the NCAA district tournament, Shafer and Hatalla were picked for the All-District team. The 1962 Mounties emerged from the Tournament as the first team since 1908 and only third team in WVU history to win 20 games. It was a season of memorable baseball.

TRACK

Runner successfully clears the hurdle

In view of last year's improved track season, it appears that Varsity Track at WVU is finally getting the recognition it deserves. The only two members of the squad from Ohio, Dick Petran and Larry Knight, led in the scoring with 65 and 61 $\frac{5}{6}$ points, respectively. Bob Howland, Joe Kubic, and Frank Guenther followed with 58, 54, and 53 points. Roger Holdinsky, who had led the team in scoring for two seasons, underwent a knee operation after football season and placed sixth with 49 points. Dieter Garrett, also a leading scorer, injured his leg in the opening meet and missed the rest of the season. Sophomore Joe Kubic broke the oldest WVU track record when he ran the half-mile in 1:58.3.

With some fine returning lettermen, such as Richard Harrison, Doug Kersey, Joe Kubic, Frank Guenther, Roger Meador, and Dick Petran, 1963 promises to be an even better season for the cindermen than last.

Swimming was the only varsity sport to have a losing season (to date, in March) during the 1962-63 school year. The team's record was 5-7, but this is somewhat misleading. The team finished third in the Southern Conference, its highest finish ever, and took more firsts in the conference meet than any other team. The team had considerable talent but lacked sufficient numbers to win meets.

The team members held many varsity records. Among these swimmers were Russ Irvine, chosen the outstanding swimmer in the Southern Conference, Dave Kohler, and Ron and Larry Crago.

Second Row: Coach Jim Markel, Manager Dennis Worrell, Wendell Dick, Greg Myers, Joe Miller, Jay Morris, Marlin Coker, John Jameson, Tom Lewis, Fred Nerz, Assistant Coach Sam Maurice.

Coach Jim Markel did a fine job of guiding the soccer team, in only its sophomore season in varsity competition, to an 8-2 record. A surprise to almost everyone, the team lived up to its coach's predictions and showed what real dedication can do. Junior Al "Bucco" Barker led the team in scoring, followed by two seniors, Greg Myers and Fred Nerz. Experience gained this year gives great hope for many good seasons to come.

INTRAMURALS

Intramurals serve a definite purpose on the West Virginia University campus by giving all students the opportunity to participate on a competitive basis. Samuel Maurice is director of the Intramural Activities program and is constantly expanding the number of competitive sports. Interest has risen to the point that over 50% of the student body now participates in intramural activities. The number of participants increased this year over last, showing the growing popularity with the student body.

In the women's intramural program for 1961-62, the girls from Morgantown came out victorious in over-all points in a fairly one-sided contest. Of the sororities, Alpha Delta Pi had the most points, with Kappa Kappa Gamma taking the next spot, followed by Delta Gamma. In the men's program, Beta Theta Pi walked off with the honors in the Fraternity "A" division, with Phi Sigma Kappa second and Pi Kappa Alpha third. In the Fraternity "B" division, Phi Sigma Delta amassed the most points.

CLASSES

One bright morning in September brings forth new smiles to the West Virginia University campus. These belong to the freshmen, all aglow and eager to learn. Freshman Week, the beginning of his new life here, is when the newcomer has the opportunity to become acquainted with his classmates and environment. One of his biggest problems is realizing that he has been knocked down a few pegs in just three months. Last June he was an almighty senior, and now, a lowly freshman.

After a year-long "period of adjustment," our little friend has acquired an abounding amount of wisdom, a vast number of friends, and the status of being a sophomore (if he's lucky!). One year is over, and now what is he? Following many hours of wondering, he concludes that he is caught between the well-poised upperclassmen and the meager freshmen. Will he fall into the traditional "Sophomore Slump"? Or, was that cliché originated for the purpose of creating an incentive?

Several months and two semesters later, our Mountaineer wakes up one day to find that he is an upperclassman—a junior. He has gained more wisdom and many more friends and he looks forward to his senior year with great expectation, building up his dream as the time draws near.

Then his dream finally materializes; our friend becomes a full-fledged senior. The fight was hard and bitter. But, what was it all about? As for friends, most have already graduated and soon he must leave the others. And status? What was that but a preparation for the cruel world ahead. His feelings turn from expectation to near panic. What will he do when June rolls around? Get a job? No, he could not risk that. He will do what any senior—all aglow and eager to learn—would do . . . go to graduate school!!!

ADVERTISEMENTS

From the steel city of Weirton a salute to the West Virginia Centennial

What has steel meant to us? Seventy years before West Virginia gained statehood, crude iron furnaces dotted its hills and valleys, setting the stage for the growth of an important industry.

Now, in the year of our state's Centennial, modern steel plants lend strength to West Virginia's industrial might and serve her people with the million-and-one everyday steel items that make life more enjoyable. Steel has become a symbol of progress for West Virginians . . . and at Weirton Steel we're proud of our role in helping make it so.
